FOREWORD

IT IS our sincere hope that in the ensuing years the 1938 Colonial will serve as a permanent record and reminder of four years of worthwhile effort and congenial fellowship.

The wisdom and culture of ancient China and its traditional beauty are in strong contrast with our modern world, but the teachings of Confucius, who is an unforgettable part of that setting, still hold true. Let the words of that great philosopher be a guide for you in the years to come: "To listen much, pick out the good and follow it, to see much and think over it: this comes next to wisdom."

DEDICATION

To a man whose integrity we admire, whose wisdom we respect, and whose sense of humor we love, we dedicate this Colonial—MR. FAUST.

COLONIAL HISTORY

IN ACCORDANCE with this year's Colonial theme, we decided to travel to China in order to have an Oriental atmosphere in compiling this year's book. As we were guests of the most honorable Mandarin, he graciously offered to allow us the use of the high court in which to hold our sixteenth meeting.

When the time arrived for the meeting, the Mandarin, clothed in his most illustrious Chinese costume, stepped forward and called the meeting to order.

"Will the honorable secretary please come forward and read the minutes of the previous Colonial meetings?"

A dignified member of the staff bowed humbly before his slanty-eyed superior and proceeded to read thus:

"The first meeting of our Colonial was held in 1923. Miss Beattie and Miss Rattelle presided over the first meeting of twelve members headed by Renwick Hurry. The next year, 1924, the Colonial had five advisers, and the staff was increased to fifteen with Ira Hansen at their head.

"In 1925, Mr. Goldy became sole adviser, and Fred Miller the successful editor. Mr. Goldy continued as adviser in 1926, but Roger Whitman replaced Fred.

"Continuing successfully in 1927, Miss Hilda Roberts directed, with the able assistance of Sherwood Silliman.

"In 1928 and 1929, Fred Doolittle and Duncan Balantine were editors-in-chief respectively: both under the excellent guidance of Miss Eastburn.

"In 1930, the Colonial not only had a new adviser, Mrs. Lyla Davis, but also a new business manager, Miss Foster. This year the custom of using the graduating date of the junior class on the year book was changed, and the seniors' date was used instead.

"In 1931 the Colonial had, for the first time, a girl editor-in-chief. She was Miss Ruth Haskins, and her adviser was still Mrs. Lyla Davis, with Miss Foster as business adviser.

"George Masset was editor in 1932, and, under the direction of him and Mrs. Davis, an excellent colonial-style sampler book was put out.

"1933 still found Mrs. Davis the adviser, and Mr. Cummings accepted the task of business manager. Doris Wagenbauer lent a helpful hand as a successful editor.

"In 1934, with the same advisers, the annual publication, with astrology as its theme, appeared under the leadership of George Williams.

"In 1935, for the third time, a girl, Edith Samuelson, became editor; and she was ably advised by Mrs. Davis, with two business advisers, Miss Foster and Mrs. Reeve.

"In 1936, with the Colonial for a magic carpet, we traveled to far-away Arabia under the excellent piloting of Kenneth Van de Water, editor, and the adviser Mrs. Davis, with Mrs. Reeve handling the business. This same leadership continued to be successful in 1937, when Elinor Pfautz became editor-in-chief."

"Fine!" exclaimed the Mandarin. "Now let us continue with this year's meeting, and, as we do so, let us keep in mind our ancient proverb—

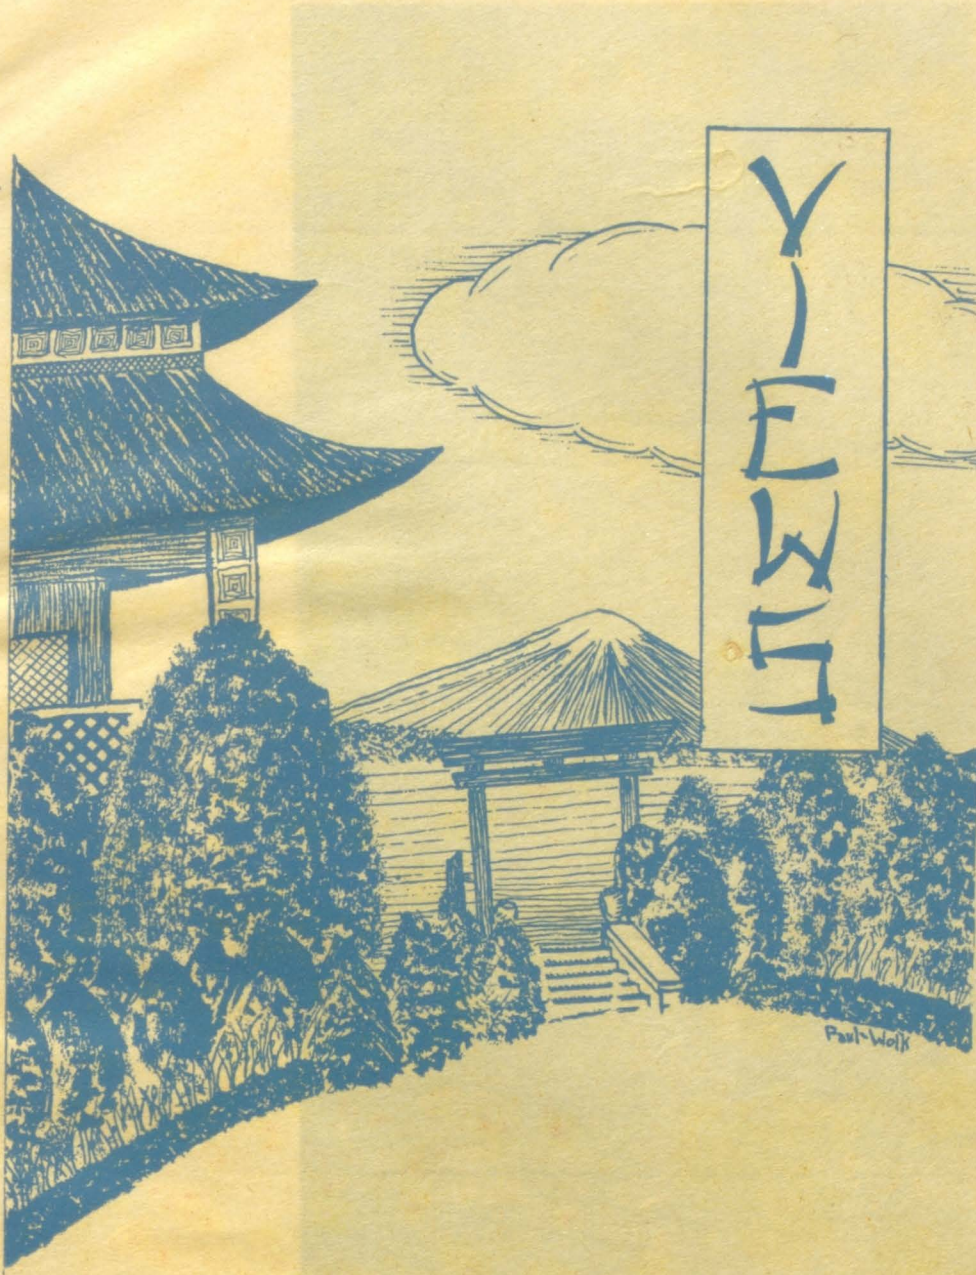

"Honest Endeavor has its own Reward."

A SENSE OF PEACE

Deep and dark and cold
Are the waters that flow below,
Yet such a sense of peace
I get when I behold
A silver star, reflected on a wave,
Or a drop of rain, that seeks it for its grave,
Cruel—or calm and still—
Are the waters that I gaze upon,
Yet peace is with me when I see
Gliding on its gallant breast
A leaf or twig of some far tree.
While in a storm, some people shrink,
I thrill to watch the ocean drink
Its fill of wild delight.
I love to see its smiling face
Thrill to the strong and wild embrace
Of the wind as it hurries by
And leaves its playground with a sigh.
I love to stand on the rock of time,
And feel the spray so clean and fine,
Soak me to the very skin.
To feel the wild and whirling wind
Whip a rosy glow throughout my being,
To feel it beat and scream and tear
Against my body, and through my hair.
Such ecstasy! Oh, peace is here,
These ocean storms I do not fear.
And like the rain I always sigh,
Sometime I myself will lie
Far in the cool, green waters deep:
I'll seek my grave, and there I'll sleep.

Bobby lots of love Paula

To a beautiful girl Florence

To an "Ace" Remember me in next picture with Anita Murray

*You can't take it with you (so they say)
You can't take it with you (the money that you play)
If you ask Bobby she's say it was small
Then you can tell her to go to hell*

UNTIL ANOTHER DAY

How oft I wish when day is through
That I might float away;
Into the starlit sky so blue,
Into a world of different hue.

I'd drift and dart through endless space;
I'd freely go my way.
I'd madly dance with perfect grace;
I'd find a shooting star to race,
Until another day.

And then when all my play is done,
And dark blue turns to gray;
I'd watch the stars fade one by one,
I'd fly to meet the rising sun,
Until another day.

HELEN SAUSKI '38

REFLECTION

I wonder why the sky is so blue today?
—I mean, beside the unromantic scientific "why!"
Just look! It's so very blue
One would think it specially painted
To match the other thrilling colors of spring.
Perhaps the whole was made to captivate the heart!
 Who knows?

IN DEFENSE OF FATE

What fools do question
Mirthless Fate
That hovers everywhere,
And how maliciously relate
Her desire to ensnare;
From tyrant kings to beggar men,
Poor Fate has been declaimed,
Especially if she's done for them
No favors and no fame;
If only some would fain believe
There is no chance, no luck,
And if they'd try to retrieve
Lost fortune by their pluck.
T'is a poor joke that man can't see:
It's he that writes his destiny!

MURIEL THORNE '38

TREASURE ROOM

I have a storeroom in my mind
Away from all the rest.
It harbors all the memories
Of things that I love best.

There are looks, and words, and joys untold;
Songs, and pleasures rare,
Compliments and many more
Preserved with greatest care.

They have a way of soothing me,
So when the outlook's black
I take them out and look at them,
Then carefully put them back.

IN DEFENSE OF DEATH

What feels no question
Worthless Fate
That buyers everywhere and I have seen it relate

They next
I take them out and
Then carefully put them

STUDENT COUNCIL

Adviser	MISS FOSTER
President	JOE THORNTON
Vice-President	BARBARA UZMANN
Secretary	ELINOR PFAUTZ
Treasurer	VERNON ADAMS

THE STUDENT COUNCIL of Hempstead High School is composed of the heads of classes, clubs, and other extra-curricular activities. Its purpose is to unite the school in a system of coöperation. It accomplishes this in part by taking charge of the General Organization tickets, which give students reduced rates to school affairs and for publications. This increases the support of the student body for these activities.

One of the finest things the Student Council accomplished this year was the purchase of a Hammond electric organ which was installed in the auditorium. It will lend beauty and dignity to the many programs which are presented in our school.

ADVISORY COUNCIL

Adviser	MISS FOSTER
President	JEFFRY WETRICH
Vice-President	JOE THORNTON
Secretary	GEORGE SCHEFFLER

REPRESENTATIVES from each home room make up the Advisory Council. These members sell the G. O. tickets and form the Junior Red Cross Council of the Hempstead High School. They also sell tickets for the operetta, senior play, and other school events. They serve to keep the student body well represented.

LIBRARY STAFF

Adviser MISS GERTRUDE RHODES
Chief-of-Staff ALIDA SMITH

THE LIBRARY STAFF is a group of twenty-five junior and senior girls of good scholastic standing. These girls act as assistants to the librarians, and help in the general management of the library.

ART CLUB

Adviser	MISS FIELD
President	MILDRED McCORMICK
Vice-President	CHARLOTTE GALLASCH
Secretary	DOROTHY CARLSEN
Treasurer	CAROLYN WALTERS
Chairman of Program Committee	VIRGINIA O'DONNELL

THE PURPOSE of the Art Club is to stimulate an interest in the broad field of art. Through the medium of various interesting speakers during the year, the girls are able to learn of many interesting and useful forms of art, such as leather-tooling, jewelry, and pottery which may serve a practical purpose, as well as the cultural forms. The members hold several holiday parties and programs. They also make a trip to New York City to see a play, and visit the Museum of Art.

SKETCH CLUB

Adviser	MISS McLEAN
President	ANNABELLE CONWAY
Vice-President	RITA HILLIARD
Secretary	EDITH PIERCE
Treasurer	WARREN RITTER

A NEW and enjoyable project in mural painting was carried out by the Sketch Club members this year. Under the guidance of Miss McLean, the members painted popular sports on the walls of the ping-pong room in the girls' gym. Last fall the members visited Dean Cornwell's mural exhibit at the Nassau Institute of Art in order to gain profitable suggestions for their murals. During the Christmas vacation the club saw a motion picture at Radio City, an ice-skating exhibit at Rockefeller Plaza, and visited a handicraft art school.

CAMPUS PATROL

Adviser	MR. SCHEM
President	LEWIS SEAMAN
Vice-President	ROBERT CAMPBELL
Secretary	GEORGE SCHEFFLER

JUNIOR AND SENIOR BOYS make up the personnel of the Campus Patrol. Their duty is to prevent students from congregating about the classroom windows and in front of the school. Their work is of great benefit to the school, and it has been carried out faithfully and well in the past year.

CARPE DIEM SODALITAS

Adviser	MISS McDERMOTT
Consul	ANNE MOONEY
Vice-consul	ALICE CLEARY
Quaestor	DOROTHY REGAN
Scribe	MARGUERITE SCHREMP

THE PURPOSE of this club is to promote interest and enjoyment in the Latin language through Latin games, short plays, and interesting speakers. Each year the club gives three prizes. They are awarded to the sophomore, junior, and senior who receive the highest marks in the Latin II, III, and IV Regents respectively. Social activities are not overlooked.

Worella Leonard

EL CIRCULO CASTELLANO

Adviser MISS GREEN
President SAUL SCHNEIDER
Vice-President HAROLD WALZER
Secretary-Treasurer DAVID GORMAN

EL CIRCULO CASTELLANO is composed of students interested in the Spanish language and the Spanish world of today. In meeting and discussing affairs of Spain, this club broadens the knowledge of the members, arouses interest in Spanish activities, and also brings the students of this language together.

JUNIOR GIRL SECRETARIES

Adviser	MRS. FOSTER
Chief	ETHEL DRAPER
Assistant Chief	MILDRED MATTHEWS
Secretary	GRACE SEHMAN
Treasurer	CHARLOTTE DAVIS

THE JUNIOR GIRL SECRETARIES are forty-two juniors and seniors who work in Office 3 during their free periods. The chief is appointed by Mrs. Foster, and the other officers are elected by the girls. Office 3 has charge of attendance, and these aides receive valuable secretarial practice in keeping files and in general office work.

Secretary	VIRGINIA HAUFT
Treasurer	BARBARA ESTABROOK

THE TUPIAR CLUB is the mathematics club, made up of students who have taken elementary algebra and plane geometry and who are taking, or have completed, intermediate algebra.

This year Mr. Hayes has taught the members more about the slide rule. They made a visit to Hofstra College to see the calculating machines. In the earlier part of the year, when the Teachers' Mathematics Meeting was held in this school, several of the members served on the refreshment committee.

ASSEMBLY SQUAD

Adviser	MR. SCHEM
Chief	LOUIS TROUVE
Secretary	HENRY KNEUR

THE ASSEMBLY SQUAD is a group of boys organized to conduct the classes to assembly quickly and with as little confusion as possible. Although this group is aided by the Pentagon and is headed by the president of the Pentagon, it is composed of any boys who wish to volunteer their services. Each year the squad is becoming more independent of other clubs.

Adviser	MISS BARTH
President	GEORGE BUCK
Vice-President	EDWINA DOYLE
Secretary	JANET PFLUG
Treasurer	BARBARA SLAWSON

THE SOPHOMORE LITERARY SOCIETY is a social club made up of both boys and girls. At the meetings this year world travelers gave interesting talks, telling about the countries they visited. The members discussed outstanding books, and individual reports were given. Plans were made to see a current play in New York City.

It is the hope of the club that by the end of the year they will have raised enough money to contribute something worth while to the school.

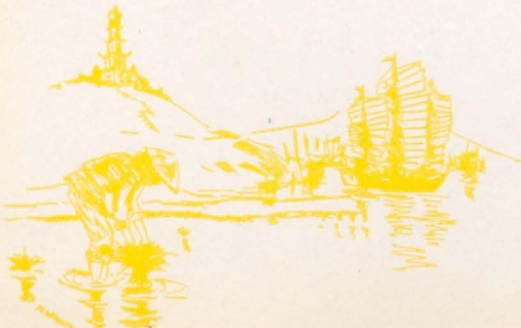

ORCHESTRA

Adviser MISS BOYLE

THE ORCHESTRA continues to develop an appreciation of fine music by its excellent interpretations of symphonic compositions. This year the Orchestra was asked to present a Music Appreciation Program on station WEAJ. The same program was also presented at various schools on the island.

The members of the Orchestra have received new jackets of school colors which give them a finer appearance at programs.

BAND

Adviser MISS BOYLE

AT THE CLOSE of the football season, our Band becomes a Symphonic Band, playing the same type of classical music as the orchestra. The band, together with the Orchestra and the A Cappella Choir, has presented a Sunday afternoon concert to a large audience.

The Band of eighty musicians has maintained the high standard of our musical organizations by faultless presentation of an improved repertoire, and by perfect drill at football games and other public appearances.

A DIVERSIFIED PROGRAM was enjoyed by the members of the History Club this year. Two speakers were heard who discussed "Life Among the Indians of the West" and "The History of Long Island." Book reviews of an historical nature were read which proved advantageous for book reports. A joint meeting was held with the Debating Club at which the question "Resolved, that democracy is better than dictatorship" was argued. An historical contest on "The History of Long Island" was sponsored by the Club. At one meeting a panel discussion on the "New Deal" was held. A "Professor Quizz" contest was enjoyed at another meeting. Sometime toward the end of the term the members plan to visit some place of historical interest.

HEMPSTEAD HIGH SCHOOL is the proud possessor of one of the finest football teams that ever played on Long Island. Not only is it one of the best on the Island but the best at Hempstead for many years. Mr. Fay drilled and trained his fast and heavy squad, which went through the season with seven victories and one tie, with remarkable success.

The Glen Cove eleven was our first victim as the Tigers bagged their prey to the tune of 20-0.

Next in line was the Bengals' arch rival, Freeport. At the Red Devils' stadium again the Tigers went stalking for game and overpowered their opponents, 32-0.

Far Rockaway suffered almost as bad a beating as Freeport, but they held the Faymen to thirty points while tallying none for themselves.

The Sewanhaka Indians, who were so soundly swamped last year by the Blue and White, were what looked like a tough opposing eleven; but the score, 27-0, tells the complete story.

The Chaminade Flyers had the distinction of being the first to cross Hempstead's goal line, and we had only one touchdown to spare when the final gun was fired. The score was 13-7.

It didn't take our blue-and-white-striped lads long to uncover another victory, 48-7, over Westbury, although in the first few minutes of the game the opposition became the second to invade the Tigers' white-striped end zone.

On a rain-soaked field Neptune held the home team to six points, picking up a zero for themselves. A tough battle it was all the way; the mud hampered both teams to a great extent.

Then the Craigmens from Baldwin, that team which has had a football jinx on us for several years, met the Faymen on Thanksgiving Day. This was our first "defeat," as the game resulted in a 7-7 tie. The Tigers showed their fangs four times in an attempt to cross Baldwin's well-protected last white stripe, but it was all in vain. The game ended with the leather just inches, terribly long inches, from that border which would have meant victory.

This past season has produced another of the memorable records and fine teams for which Hempstead has been known for many years back. Next year a few of the veterans will be back lugging the leather for the Blue and White, and to fill in the vacancies Mr. Fay has his eye on several members of the second varsity and the junior varsity teams.

BASKETBALL

THIS YEAR'S varsity basketball quintet ended the season with just about the same record as last year's. Both teams were just a wee bit below the .500 mark, although the Blue and White lads finished second behind Freeport in the Nassau Conference. The Bennermen won nine games out of the nineteen played this season.

The Tigers were swamped by the Long Beach aggregation in their first encounter, 15-41. Garden City topped us by two points, 25-27, and Hempstead's first win of the season was its 21-17 score against the Alumni.

The Bengals continued to win by four points over Westbury, 17-13. Then they were defeated again at the hands of Long Beach, 9-26. Sewanhaka was taken over by the local squad by three points, 28-25.

The powerful Woodmere five found us easy meat; as the score, 28-43, will tell. The county champs, Freeport, downed us decisively, 8-20; but Glen Cove bowed to the spasmodic Cats, 24-20.

Two more straight victories then followed. They were Chaminade, 20-16, and a very thrilling match with the Sewanhaka Indians which ended in a 23-22 score.

The Nineteen Thirty-Eight

Chaminade got revenge next by defeating Hempstead 26-30. Baldwin also was victorious over the Tigers by a 17-21 final score. The Bennermen suffered their worst defeat of the season at the hands of Freeport, this time, 7-33.

In another real thriller Glen Cove came from behind to tally 41 points to our 36. Baldwin bowed to the Hempsteadites, 32-25, and Woodmere again made us the underlings, 23-38.

Hempstead's last two contests put a nice finishing touch to the court season. The Bengals took Westbury in a tight finish, 17-15, and in the finale the Faculty put up a good game but lost by a 44-36 score.

Most of the wearers of the Blue and White are seniors and have shot their last counting baskets for Hempstead High. Their loyal spirit is appreciated, and the school looks forward to the next season when the newcomers will take up where the graduates left off.

BASEBALL

TWENTY-EIGHT CONSECUTIVE WINS—that is the proud record of the Hempstead High School baseball team. At the beginning of last year's season, the Blue and White had already rung up fourteen straight wins, and the fourteen that the Tigers took in 1937 ran the total up to twenty-eight, which is an international record. The following boys are to be congratulated on their record-breaking performance on the diamond, both at home and away: Herbert Thogode, George Schmallhoffer, Eugene Stratton, Henry Kneuer, Richard Miller, Andrew MacDonald, Frank Kiesecker, William Nolan, Ted Annis, Frank Aims and Matthew Oliver.

The first encounter of the season was somewhat of a tough one, as the Faymen had an advantage of only one point when the third out was called in the seventh inning against Baldwin. The score was 5-4.

Woodmere proved to be easy, and the Tigers swamped them to the tune of 11-1. The Zachmann outfit from Baldwin were again losers to the local lads on their own field, this time 5-1. The Bengals tallied seventeen points, the most during the season, against Long Beach's one in the fourth fracas of the baseball campaign.

The Westbury nine was taken easily, 10-3. Next came Freeport, who held the roaring beasts to four runs while gaining three for themselves. Glen Cove was the victim of the twenty-first game of the total record, as they were defeated by a 4-1 score. Sewanhaka bowed easily, 7-3; and a few days later Chaminade came very close with nine runs against our ten. Those nine runs were the most that any opposing team chalked up during the season.

The Nineteen Thirty-Eight

Westbury was completely defeated as Hempstead swept its two-game series with that school; the second score was 14-3. Glen Cove was next with one run; we knocked in seven runs. The last two games were very, very close. The local squad defeated Garden City 5-4, and the only shut-out was handed to Freeport in the last game; the score read 1-0. This game went into extra innings, which proved that the Faymen could work under pressure against one of the best pitchers of all the high schools.

That made twenty-eight straight wins. That is the way it stands now, and, as this copy is handed to the printers, nobody knows how long that streak can be extended. The odds are certainly against us, but with five veterans back this year, the team should be one of the best to be found hereabouts.

TRACK

THE HIGH-SCHOOL TRACK SQUAD opened their 1937 season with a decisive victory over Westbury, $60\frac{1}{3}$ - $32\frac{2}{3}$. The Loebmen showed that almost perfect form which made them the county champions in 1936. In this initial meet, Co-captain Ralston Engel starred, taking first place in both the high jump and the shot-put. Hempstead's other main feature was its sweeping victory in the 880-yard event, in which Edward Murray, Stan Sadoski, and Paul Atkinson finished in first, second, and third places respectively.

The Blue and White cinder pacers met defeat for the second time in two years at the hands (or should it be the feet?) of Freeport, 37-49. This meet was held at Randall Park on May 8. Freeport's ace, Alvin Seigfriedt, was the outstanding individual, as he took first place in the 100- and 220-yard dashes as well as the broad-jump event. Ralston Engel again captured the high-jump and shot-put finals, but the absence of Co-captain Harry Price was sorely felt by the Loebmen.

Chaminade gained their first track victory over the Tigers in four years by a very, very close 39-38 score. Hempstead was in the lead, 38-34, as the last event, the 880-yard relay, was about to begin. Chaminade took this, however, which gave them the win by one point.

Next on the schedule was Bay Shore. The local track squad journeyed to Suffolk to win easily, $61\frac{1}{3}$ - $31\frac{2}{3}$. Five first-place ties were featured on the score card, and this victory made Hempstead's average .500 per cent, winning two and losing two meets.

The Nassau County Conference Championship Meet was held at Westbury on their fast and well-cared-for track. Five schools participated, and Freeport came out wearing the crown of victory. The trophy that the Red Devils won had been in the possession of Hempstead for two years. The scores were as follows: Freeport $34\frac{1}{2}$; Chaminade 31; Hempstead 25; Westbury 22; Sewanhaka $8\frac{1}{2}$.

The 1938 track team is lacking some of its last year's stars; but, from the many preseason hopefuls, Coach Loeb plans to round out a team which will equal the success of teams of previous years.

TENNIS who shall it take to the ball?

ONCE AGAIN HEMPSTEAD has come up with a winning team, finishing second only to Sewanhaka in the Nassau Conference race. Losing only to this school the 1937 team has even eclipsed the fine records of the squads of previous years.

With a schedule containing such outstanding teams as Baldwin, Freeport, Lawrence, Garden City, and St. Pauls, it would seem that the outlook for 1938 could not be any too bright. Yet with such able veterans as co-captains Emil and Frank Schiess, Kenneth Helms, and John Phillips returning, we can look forward to a season which in all probability will be one of the most promising in the history of this school.

So let's get behind this year's squad and give it our fullest support in its attempt to annex the conference championship.

FENCING

FENCING is a sport which is very much overlooked at Hempstead High School, but without reason; for it is an art requiring much skill and poise, and one which several interested students of this school have mastered. The fencing team includes Paul Beegel, Henry Plant, William Alberga, Charles Suidmack, and George Fredericks. As this book goes to press the team has participated in only three matches with a .500 per cent average.

In the first meet of the season the bib-clad lads were defeated by the more experienced Richmond Hill fencers, 12-1. This year's squad has had very little experience with outside competition, but as the season progresses the more or less green stabbers will undoubtedly improve to a great extent.

The second outside match of the season brought the Blue and White face to face with the Hofstra freshman team. The Faymen profited by their previous duel with Richmond Hill, and defeated their neighbors by a 5-4 count. Paul Beegel, whose previous training as a duelist has placed him in the No. 1 position, outpointed all three of his opponents in this match, which was the deciding factor in Hempstead's victory.

The third match and the second encounter with Richmond Hill saw the local squad lose again, 8-4. It was a hard-fought duel all the way, and most of the scores were registered 5-4 for each individual match, which indicates the improvement of the Faymen in the short space of three weeks.

Several other matches are on the schedule of the fencers, including the inter-scholastic tournament at Hofstra in the near future. They hope to add a few more victories to their record before the close of the season.

TEAM SPORTS

HEMPSTEAD girls' sports are conducted on the basis of the intramural system. This enables a greater number of girls to benefit by the activity. At present fifty per cent of all the girls in school participate in after-school activities.

A part of the intramural system is the honor team. Honor teams are selected from all the girls taking part in the sport. The choosing of the team is the culmination of the season, and it is the aim of every girl to be a member. These teams represent the school in play days.

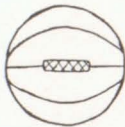

HOCKEY

With Millie Olsen as the student leader and with Miss Bassemir's aid, the 1937 hockey play was brought through a successful season. The participating group was larger this year than ever before. In the intramural program, the senior team won first place, and the sophomores placed second.

Following this tournament, the chosen honor team played several games at the Great Neck sports day, Hempstead taking second place. A social assembly of all hockey players, the traditional spread, closed the season.

BASKETBALL

Basketball this year was well managed by student leader Marjorie Hill. Miss Beighley afforded aid from the faculty. The end of the tournament between classes found the seniors in first place, the juniors in second.

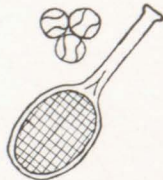

After the selecting of the honor team, this team and two others made a successful showing at Garden City with three wins and a tie. Hempstead was also victorious in a game with the Alumnae. A general get-together, the basketball spread, closed a fine season.

BASEBALL

The sport leader for baseball, season of '38, was Judy McWilliams. Miss Beighley was faculty adviser. In the 1937 interclass playing the seniors won first place, the juniors second, with close sophomore competition. The baseball outcome in the Hempstead sports day was a triumph for our girls, the honor teams winning most of the games. The '37 season was brought to an end with a spread, at which all the sports were represented. A baseball season as successful as last year's is expected for 1938.

TENNIS

Tennis is under the supervision of Miss MacCallum and Miss Loew. In the 1937-38 season, tennis was managed by the student leader Weezy Wiesendanger. Mass tryouts are held to choose eight of the best from the sophomore, junior and senior classes. The tournaments are next held, which result in finding the most skillful player in each class and then in the whole school. Marie Garrison won this title in the fall matches. At the Great Neck sports day, Hempstead triumphed on the tennis courts with all wins.

All athletic awards are made under the point system. Each sport has points allotted to it, and more may be gained by leadership of some kind, such as acting as a gym aid. Earning fifty points means numerals, one hundred points, a monogram, one hundred and fifty, a letter.

INDIVIDUAL SPORTS

GREEK GAMES

The Greek Games are presented annually in the form of competition between the sophomore and freshmen girls. Hurdling, discus throwing, hoop rolling, chariot races and torch races are the athletic events. Dancing, lyric writing and singing are also part of the presentation. The games have been kept much the same as the first Greek games were, with the idea that sportsmanship and fighting well is more important than conquering.

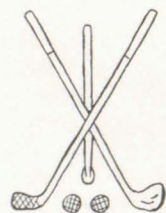

This year the games are under the student supervision of Ruth Haysman and under the direction of Miss MacCallum and Miss Loew. The 1937 Greek Games were won by the sophomores, the class of '39.

RIDING

Anne Whitney acted as the sport leader of riding this season, with Miss Schwedes, Miss Johnson and Miss Rowles as faculty advisers. Riding classes meet once a week. The girls are instructed in riding for form, trotting, cantering, mounting and dismounting. Hempstead tied for first and second places in the riding exhibition at the Great Neck sports day. The group usually closes the season with a horse show and a picnic ride.

GOLF

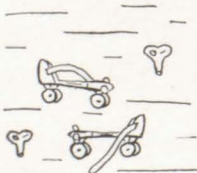

The 1937-38 golf season was carried on under the student leadership of Helen Egloff and the faculty supervision of Miss Rowles. This group plays in the spring and fall at Old Westbury. The girls learn the different strokes with instruction from the professor, Mr. Noon; they then play on the course.

HIKING

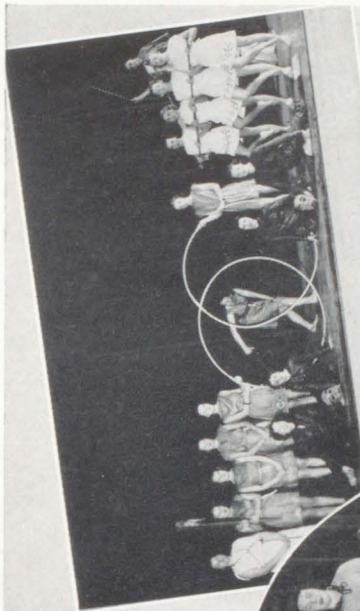

Hiking this year was under the student leadership of Marjorie Bischoff, with Miss Wohlschlegel as faculty adviser. Each week this group takes a long walk to some one of the more interesting spots near by. They have hiked to the Roosevelt Raceway, Barnum's Woods, and also to the Mineola Fair. Their longest walk was the seven-and-a-half-mile hike around the Hempstead State Park Lake. The girls usually close the season with a picnic hike.

ROLLER SKATING

The 1937-38 roller skating group was headed by the student leader Evelyn Urlacher, with Miss Layton the faculty adviser. This group meets once a week to skate at the Mineola Skating Rink. There the girls skate to music and have learned several dance steps; such as the Circle Waltz and the Chicago Hop.

TRUE CONFESSIONS

By The Seniors

ABRAMS, THURLAND NICKNAME: Abe or Butch
"Abe" is just a name for lazy people, who can't get up enough energy to call me Abrams instead. A girl from Michigan once called me "Butch" with added expression, and since then it has been a regular name for me.

ACKERLY, DOROTHY NICKNAME: Red
I was given this name because I am a carrot-top.

ADAMS, MARY NICKNAME: Chubby
The reason was and is quite obvious.

ADAMS, VERNON NICKNAME: None
I have no nickname, because I haven't any friends.

ANNIS, THEODORE NICKNAME: Stretch
Derived from the long reach I possess.

APTED, LUCILLE NICKNAME: Lu Lu
I got this nickname through none of my doings. My friends just used the first two letters in my first name. For reference see the Saturday Evening Post, the small cartoon of little Lu Lu.

ARNOTT, CARL NICKNAME: Spike
My friends decided to give me a nickname. Because I pal around with a tough fellow who is a good boxer and football player, they decided on "Spike," and so it is.

ASKERBERG, GLADYS NICKNAME: Gay
Because of my initials being G. A., a very convenient "Y" was added, and I am now known as "Gay."

ASSIP, EUGENE NICKNAME: Lefty

AXELSON, RUDOLPH NICKNAME: Jeeps
Being tired of addressing me by my first name, one fellow started to call me "Jeeps." Since then we both call each other by that name.

BANNERMAN, RUTH NICKNAME: Boo
I received a lot of spankings when I was little and it always made me rather angry. Even though I was guilty, I would console myself, and say—

"Poor 'Boo' you know you aren't to blame
They'll be sorry for this some day.
And that is how I got that name."

BARROWS, BARBARA NICKNAME: Bumps
There was a time in my youth when I was called Bumps,

But that was such a long time ago.
Now you can call me "Bobbie" or "Bob,"
Because they are the logical names you know.
P.S. Never call me "Babs."

BARTANOWICZ, PHILIP NICKNAME: Schoolboy
I work with older fellows than I. Because I work part time and still go to school, these friends named me "Schoolboy." I don't like this name for it makes me feel awkward; but it seems there is nothing I can do about it. I just have to stand being called "Schoolboy."

BAUMANN, JOHN NICKNAME: Professor
Standing near the door at four Someone cried, "Hey, Professor"
Since then it's been pro and prof;
But I don't mind, I think they're tops.

BEAM, CARL NICKNAME: Beamus
A number of years ago my friends added "us" to each others' names. Consequently I was dubbed "Beamus," and the name stuck.

BECK, LIZETTE NICKNAME: Lizzy
The boys and girls in my neighborhood started calling me "Lizzy" when I was twelve years old, and I have kept it ever since.

BECKETT, DANIEL NICKNAME: Dan'l Q
Due to my quaint, queer, querulous, questioning, quick, quacking, quiet attitude toward life, I deserve such a thirst-quenching name.

BEDELL, BEULAH NICKNAME: Bibs
I was given this name by a friend who claimed my name was too difficult to pronounce and too formal; not because I needed a bib.

BEDELL, ELIZABETH NICKNAME: Petty
My nickname means small, but as far back as I can remember I was always tall.

BEEKMAN, JEANETTE NICKNAME: Speedy
I am often called "Speedy" because I run very much, and I am swift in all my actions.

BELUS, FLORENCE NICKNAME: Honey
This was my mother's idea, She's called me "Honey" ever since —!

BENNETT, CONSTANCE NICKNAME: Connie
My nickname would obviously be "Connie." There is no story attached to it. Can you make anything of it?

BENNETT, REGINA NICKNAME: Gina
I have been called everything from "Bean Pole" to "Reggie." Some of them even called me "Gin," but I soon put a stop to that. After breaking them of the habit, they had to call me something; someone suggested "Gina," and ever since then it has stuck.

BERTOLINI, JOHN NICKNAME: J. B.
In my youth, my position in life and my nature was such that it warranted this title.

BIGBIE, WILLIAM NICKNAMES: Flap, Bigears, Bill
My friends call me everything and anything. "Flap," "Bigears," "Bill." Can't tell the rest of the things they call me.

BINSACK, MARGARET NICKNAME: Binnie
My real name is Margaret Mary,
But I don't like that so much.
They used to call me "Binsack,"
And sometimes even "Pest";
But now they call me "Binnie,"
And really that's the best.

BISCHOFF, MARJORIE NICKNAME: Midge
"Midge" was taken from a name of a character in one of Carolyn Wells' books.

- BISHOP, ROY NICKNAME: Shorty
They all make fun of my sad plight,
I cannot grow by day or night;
So when I'm called I act quite haughty,
For my nickname is just plain "Shorty."
- BLANCK, LILLIAN NICKNAME: Lil
"Lil," short cut for Lillian.
- BRACHT, GERTRUDE NICKNAME: Mitz
I was first called "Mitz" by a friend. I don't know how she ever thought of the name.
- BRADY, DOLORES NICKNAME: Dee
Once upon a time, not so long ago, I had so many nicknames I developed an inferiority complex, jumping every time a name was called. After much strenuous thought, I incorporated myself under the name of "Dee."
- BRAST, GEORGE NICKNAME: Do De
In my youth I was acquainted with an intelligent youngster who looked up the meaning of the name George. It was "Do De"; hence the nickname.
- BRENNER, CHARLOTTE NICKNAME: Polly
I received the name "Polly" because I was so loquacious.
- BRITWAR, JACK NICKNAME: Porky
I'm called this for no reason. I've never lived in a pig pen, and I don't go with beans.
- BROCKMANN, MARJORIE NICKNAME: Margie
My friends thought Marjorie was too long so they cut it short.
- BROWN, JAMES A. NICKNAME: Punchy
"Punchy" because I walk in a daze.
- BROZAK, ANN HOPE NICKNAME: Duchess
My family named me "Duchess," because I never answered when called "Annie."
- BRUNDAGE, ROY NICKNAME: None
I was born at Richmond Hill on December 30, 1917. I like to read a good book and, when able, to find the time to ride a horse or play tennis.
- BRUNING, ANNA NICKNAME: Dabby
About five years ago I offered to dry the dishes for my aunt. She handed me the dish towel and I started—breaking them. Instead of calling me clumsy, she called me "Dabby" and "Dabby" it has been.
- CADDICK, BRUCE NICKNAME: Grandpa
I have been nicknamed "Grandpa" for some unknown reason; but it might be because of creaking underpinnings.
- CAIN, THERESA NICKNAMES: Resee and Irish
I have two nicknames, "Resee" and "Irish." Resee was the name I got when my sister couldn't say Theresa; so she left off the "The" and called me "Resee". "Irish" was the name I received from "Tex" at a party where I wore a bright green dress. That is the name that most of the kids call me today.
- CALDWELL, HOWARD NICKNAME: Howie
The boys called me Alice before I started to school; don't ask me why. I suppose I looked like a sissy, and maybe I still do. I am always known as "Howie"; although there have been plenty of nicknames since, including "Butch," "Hand," and "Muscles."
- CANTFIL, AUGUST NICKNAME: Butch
I got that name from working in the slaughter house in the Chicago Stockyards.
- CARMICHAEL, DORIS NICKNAME: Mike
Though there are names by which I might be known
And many I would better like,
I seem to be destined to own
The craziest name of "Mike."
- CAROTA, ALFRED NICKNAME: Accidental Al
They call me "Accidental Al" because I am always bumping into someone when I am playing basketball or football.
- CHAPMAN, WILLIAM NICKNAME: Chappie
Of all the different nicknames I have been called, "Chappie" seems to stand first in line. I guess this is just a family nickname since my father and two brothers are called the same thing. There isn't much to say about the origin of the name, just that it comes from my last name.
- CHESLAK, EDWARD NICKNAME: Shamrock
- CHRISTENSEN, LUELLA NICKNAME: Dolly
After I was born, my sister thought my mother had bought her a live doll to play with, so she gave me the name of "Dolly."
- CHRISTMAN, DOROTHY NICKNAME: Christie
"Christie" is the nickname, folks. It's just a shortening of the last name, and it suits me better than the usual "Dot," which I hate. The name from the "Jolly Eleven Club" is "Chum" which is the name given to all ten members.
- CLARK, MALCOLM NICKNAME: Mack
When I was a little boy in shorts, they were building the Parkway and the men who drove the trucks let me ride with them. It happened to be a Mack truck I rode in, so I have been called "Mack" by my friends.
- CLAYTON, JUNE NICKNAME: June-bug
My friends like to make my name longer rather than shorter, the usual purpose of a nick-name.
- CLEARY, MARY NICKNAME: Butch
Because I'm so tough!
- COLAHAN, HELEN NICKNAME: Gabby
Because of my silent nature.
- COLLINS, LYMAN NICKNAME: Ripper
I acquired it from "Ripper" Collins of the Chicago Cubs, who is no relative of mine and certainly has no similarities.
- CONKLIN, EDWARD NICKNAME: Conk
Around our neighborhood all the fellows call one another by their last names; "Conk" is a contraction of Conklin.
- CONSTABLE, JOHN NICKNAME: Jack
When I came into the world I was dubbed John. I suppose John sounded too sophisticated, so now I am Jack, or Jock.
- COOK, CHARLES B. NICKNAME: Cookie
I'm most commonly called "Cookie" from my last name, Cook, and that one time hit, "Here Comes Cookie." I'm also called Butch from my middle initial, "B."
- CORNELL, ADELE NICKNAME: Cornie
Lazy friends named me "Cornie,"
Because my right name was too longie.
So I know that you'll agree,
My friends were not much help to me.
- CORRIGAN, WALTER NICKNAME: Cootie Head
In Roosevelt near my home
There lives a boy named Ed.
One day while scratching my dome,
He called me "Cootie Head."
- Now I didn't like it at first
And I got very mad,
But since then it has stuck,
And I've decided it's not so bad.
- COTTER, CAROLYN NICKNAMES: Suzy and Jughaid
In Mr. Pill's English III class, someone asked what my middle initial was. I said it was "S" for Suzabelle. I think little Jughaid in the Barney Google strip is cute; so I'm called that.
- COYLE, MARGARET NICKNAME: Margy
My real name is Margaret, but I am called "Margy." This was selected because it is short for Margaret.

CRAIG, ETHEL NICKNAME: Stub
 It may seem to you a little cracked
 To tell you this, but it's a fact
 That I did stub my toe and fall
 So, folks, I guess that must be all.

DARCY, MARJORIE NICKNAME: Midge
 One evening, I was introduced to three boys. My name, Marge, was not pronounced clearly and they thought it was "Midge." No amount of explaining could change "Midge" back to Marge so now I am "Midge" to everyone.

DAVEY, LEON NICKNAME: Davey
 Most of my friends call me "Davey" because they like it better, but some call me "Davey Jones."

DAVIDS, HERBERT NICKNAME: Brat
 I've had a lot of nicknames in my life, but the one that has stuck is "Brat." I used to pal around with some older fellows when I was small, and one fellow began to call me "Erat." Finally all the fellows started calling me "Prat," and it has stayed with me to this day. I guess I'm destined to be called "Erat" for the rest of my life.

DAVIS, CALVIN NICKNAME: Whizzer
 Ya got me!

DAVIS, CHARLOTTE NICKNAME: Chic
 First they called me Chiclet
 Now they call me Chic,
 I don't know how I got it,
 But I think it's pretty slick.

DAVIS, RICHARD E. McSHANE NICKNAME: Dixie
 I come from below the Mason-Dixon line.

DAWSON, RAYMOND NICKNAME: None
 Raymond Dawson is my name,
 Not Euttercup or Joe.
 I'd like to see it stay the same,
 And hate to see it go.

DEACON, RAYMOND NICKNAME: Deak
 The name Deacon is very religious, and as I have no religious virtues, I am called "Deak."

DEARCANGELIS, FERNANDO ALFRED NICKNAME: Nano
 When I was about four years old, some of the boys couldn't pronounce my name so they called me "Nano." I have been called that ever since.

DEGRAUW, RICHARD NICKNAME: Machine Gun Butch
 I obtained this name in the seventh grade, because I was always imitating gangsters with the aid of rulers, erasers, and other objects which were used as machine guns, bombs, etc.

DEMESKO, OLGA NICKNAME: Pee Wee
 We work on a farm, and have a grand time
 Thinking of nicknames for each other.
 "I have it!" said she,
 "Oh, this it shall be!"
 From then, Olga was called "Pee Wee."

DE PASQUALE, ALBA NICKNAME: Kurkie
 My nickname is "Kurkie." Some old neighbors thought my name didn't fit me so they decided on Alba-Kurk and then "Kurkie." It has stuck to me for years, but I still don't like it.

DESCH, CLIFFORD NICKNAME: Rip
 It was back in '26
 When "Wimpy's" tongue did tricks.
 Instead of Cliff, to him it was "Wip"
 "Wip" and "Rip" sound the same,
 And soon to everyone, "Rip" I became.

DIONISI, JOSEPH NICKNAME: Swampy
 Incoherent—too many details!

DIXON, RUTH NICKNAME: Sugar
 One evening Ruth Dixon went to a hobo party and she wore a costume of "Jack Frost Sugar" bags. From that day to this some people call her "Jack Frost" or "Sugar."

DODD, WILBURN NICKNAME: None

DRAB, JOSEPH NICKNAME: Wild Oats
 "Wild Oats" because my hair would always stand up in the morning no matter what I put on it, and therefore the students in the bus nicknamed me "Wild Oats."

DRAKE, BARBARA NICKNAMES: Bob, Babs, Bobby
 These are merely the popular nicknames for Parbara.

DRAPER, ETHEL NICKNAME: Shutta
 Upon being introduced to a young man who confessed that Ethels were scarce among his acquaintances except for Ethel Shutta, the singer, he promptly christened me "Shutta."

DUSCHENCHUK, WALTER NICKNAME: Dusie
 My nickname started a couple of years ago when some fellows cut my name from Duschenchuk to just "Dusie." My full name is probably too hard to pronounce for most people, so everybody calls me "Dusie."

EDWARDS, CLYDE NICKNAME: Pappy
 It started in a Drum and Bugle Corp, when I discovered a cat with her family of day-old kittens.

EGLOFF, RENUIS NICKNAME: Eggy
 The reason for this peculiar nickname seems logical. Whenever I'm asked my name, I say Renuis Egloff, and if not asked how to spell the surname it is usually spelled "Egloff."

EHMANN, GRACE NICKNAME: Corky
 When I was rather small,
 And yet too big to crawl,
 My corkscrew curls were long and gawky
 And that is why they call me "Corky."

ENGEL, ANNA MARIE NICKNAME: Rosie
 A few summers ago, a group of my friends and I organized the "Foist Avenue and Toity-Toid Street Gang." We called ourselves "Semmy," "Jakie," and "Rosie." I was given the name of "Rosie." I've never divulged the secret before, and when the Colonial comes out the "Gang" will be changed to a bunch of ferocious head-hunters.

EVERS, CHARLES NICKNAME: Flash
 One day as I was leaving a class in the middle of the period, the teacher told me to hurry back. I said, "I'll be back in a flash—with a flash." Since then I have been called "Flash."

FERRIS, EDWARD NICKNAME: He'd rather not say
 I am purely a business man with little time for social affairs. I have a very profitable business selling refrigerators and ice boxes to the Eskimos during the winter season. As for my nickname, I'd rather not write anything, because I don't like it.

FIELD, WYLMA NICKNAME: Willy
 This name is an obvious contraction of my first name.

FINCK, FLORENCE MABEL NICKNAME: Frenchie
 How I got this name is beyond me.
 When I came in one night, someone called out "Hello Frenchie!"—ever since I have been called by that. I much prefer "Flo."

FINE, LAWRENCE NICKNAME: La
 The trend these modern days seems to be growing toward abbreviation. The evolution of my many lettered name I hereby cite as an illustration: Lawrence, Laurie, Larry, Law, and finally "La."

FINNEGAN, FLORENCE NICKNAME: Finny
 The ambitious students in Hempstead High found Florence too dignified, and Finnegan too difficult; so they just said "Finny."

- FLANNERY, JOSEPH NICKNAME: Red
I really have no nickname, but most people call me "Red," because of the brilliant color of my hair. Otherwise I am known to my friends as just plain, everyday "Joe."
- FLYNN, RUTH NICKNAME: Prunella
It was given to me by my cousin, because I reminded him of a girl he knew from Lone Mountain, Kentucky.
- FORMAN, AARON NICKNAME: Maxie
Due to my resemblance to the ex-champion, and the fact that I box a little, I received the name of "Maxie."
- FRANKLIN, WILLIAM NICKNAME: Wimpy
In the year 1931 when I was known as Bill, there popped up a club of which I became a member. The girls were given boys' names and the boys were given girls' names. I was christened with "Clarice Wimpeepoof." One thoughtful soul shortened it down to "Wimpe," but the rest of the members thought that "Wimpy" was easier to say. Since then I have been called by that name, thanks to those unthoughtful friends. Of course I didn't acquire it through my dainty appetite.
- FREAM, LEROY NICKNAME: Kid
My father started calling me this. I guess it's because he just couldn't see me as grown up. Then again there must be something about me which inspires it, for while working last year the men in the plant started calling me "Kid." I think if I'm called "Kid" after I leave school, I'll grow a beard and be a hermit.
- FREDERICKS, LAURA E. NICKNAME: Speedy
Of a nickname I was needy, I am slow, so they called me "Speedy." I believe in taking my time, And that has made this jingle rhyme.
- FRENCHUK, SOPHIE NICKNAME: Frenchie
The derivation of this is obvious.
- FRIEDMAN, SHIRLEY NICKNAME: Blackie
They call me Blackie Because of my dark complexion. I hate this name—I think it's whacky But don't get the wrong impression.
- FUCHS, ABIE NICKNAME: Honest Abe
Do you doubt me?
- GALLASCH, CHARLOTTE NICKNAME: Fuzz
The nickname "Fuzz" originated with my white angora sweater, and became more widely spread when I started wearing fuzzy bangs.
- GARRISON, MARIE NICKNAME: Gigs
They've called me "Inch," "Cotton Top," and "Fluffy,"
But all have sounded rather stuffy,
Now it's "Gigs" because of my laugh,
Which I hope will please the Colonial staff.
- GARTHWAITE, HOWARD NICKNAME: None
Unless a person has some outstanding or unusual feature in his appearance, he is not likely to have a nickname. I have none of these features; therefore no nickname.
- GEBHARDT, FREDERICA NICKNAME: Freddie
When I was small I had always wanted to dress as a boy, so my father bought me a boy's suit and a pipe. From the nickname "Rica," they changed to "Freddie" which suited me much better.
- GERARD, LUCILLE NICKNAME: Lucybelle
A girl on Jack Benny's program was called "Lucybelle"; and one day in band, when I was asked to play, some one called me "Lucybelle," and I have been that ever since.
- GERKEN, FREDERICK NICKNAME: Pickles
Origin—faculty member!
- GIACINTO, SALVATORE NICKNAME: Fido
I always like to chew on a pencil. One day I had about seven pencils in my mouth, and the seventh grade teacher caught me and gave me this name.
- GITZINGER, IRENE NICKNAME: Bing
I was given this name because my girl friend's name was "Bang."
- GLENN, MARIE NICKNAME: Mee Wee
The girls called me "Mee Wee," because I was so much smaller than they were.
- GOEPFERT, WILLIAM NICKNAME: Bill
Although I didn't arrive on the first of the month, I was called "Bill" just the same.
- GOLDSMITH, STENARD NICKNAME: Stenny
My nickname is "Stenny"
It's not worth a penny,
But it'll have to do.
What think you?
- GOLEGO, WILLIAM NICKNAME: Gigalo
My name may be Go-le-go,
But I think some people are nuts,
Because they call me "Gigalo."
Well, oh, rutz.
- GOODWIN, LILLIAN NICKNAME: Lil, or Duchess
I've had quite a number of nicknames, but the only one that has lasted is "Lil." Some of my friends call me "Duchess," but I prefer plain Lillian.
- GRABEK, BENJAMIN NICKNAMES: Son and Sonny
When I was a very little boy, my father used to call me "Son." My comrades would hear him and they started to call me "Sonny." Now that I am older, all my friends call me by my right name but my family and one or two friends who still call me "Sonny."
- GRAHAM, FLORENCE NICKNAME: Lambie
When I was a baby, everyone would remark, "Isn't she a lamb?" The name persisted; but as I grew older, it changed to "Lambie."
- GREENBAUM, ARNOLD NICKNAME: Dink
In my eighth-grade class we always discussed radio and movie stars, and so one day we were discussing about Schnozzle Durante and his favorite song "Dink-A-Dink-A-Doo." I started imitating him, and when I finished singing his song, they started calling me "Dink." It has stayed with me ever since.
- GRIFFIN, MARIE NICKNAME: Shorly
This nickname was wished upon me because of my lack of size.
- HACKETT, JAMES NICKNAME: M. G. M.
This was given to me because of my middle name which happens to be Leo.
- HAGELSTEIN, IDA NICKNAME: Monkey
Once upon a time,
When I was in my prime,
I earned the name of "Donkey,"
And now it's changed to "Monkey."
(It must be my good looks.)
- HALLENIUS, LILLIAN NICKNAME: Skeezix
I had bangs, and they were always in my face.
- HAMLET, JOHN NICKNAME: Ham
Derived from Hamlet.
- HANSEN, ALICE NICKNAME: Infant
Through some quirk of fate, most of my friends' ages exceed mine by one or two years. I am usually the youngest in our gatherings, and I am the youngest in our sorority. Hence Little Alice acquired the name "Infant."
- HARPELL, DOROTHY NICKNAMES: Dot and Butch
Like most of the Dorothys I am just plain "Dot" to everyone. Yet, there is another name used only when we girls get together. There are eight of us, and we all have such flowery names as "Gat," "Spike," "Shrimp," etc. Mine happens to be "Butch."

HARRIS, EILEEN NICKNAME: I
As most of my friends are of the lazy type, they found my name a trifle too long to suit them; so they cut it down to just plain "I."

HARROWER, EUGENE NICKNAME: Shorty
Very appropriate for one 6 feet 3 inches tall.

HARTOS, JOHN NICKNAME: Fat
Since my weight is slightly over 200 lbs., I think it is obvious how I got it.

HARTZELL, CLAUDE R., JR. NICKNAME: Bunny

Last year a boy started calling me this crazy name in an article in the Patriot. Because of this I have been called it by some people, but I wish they would stop it!

HAUPT, VIRGINIA NICKNAME: Pups
Ever since I can remember, I've wanted a nickname. But every one called me "Jinnie," just the same.

Then some one spoke to the dog, I thought they meant me.

Now I'm called "Pups"
Though why's a mystery.

HAUSMANN, WALTER NICKNAME: Slugger

Last summer in every inning
Of baseball, I surely was winning;
But then came a slump
And I was down in the dump.
I tried to repeat
The difficult feat;
But finally was called,
With mockery bold,
The sarcastic title of "Slugger."

HAYSMAN, RUTH NICKNAME: Hazy
It is derived by shortening the name Haysman down to four letters.

HEALY, BERNADETTE NICKNAME: Bernie
My mother called me Bernadette,
My father called me Sis,
My friends all call me Bernie,
So I think I'll stick to this.

HEDEMARK, ROOSEVELT NICKNAME: Roose
I received my nickname from the boys who used to come to my house when we played sand lot baseball. Instead of calling me by my first name, they just called me "Roose," because my first name was too long.

HEFFERNAN, FLORENCE NICKNAME: Shorty
Draw your own conclusions why I am called "Shorty."

HEINLEIN, MARY MAGDALEN NICKNAME: Lene

Recently I've acquired the nickname "Lene." Just why—well, I think it's due to the over-abundance of girls answering to the common name of "Mary." My friends decided to make mine different.

HELYER, ELLEN NICKNAME: None
Ellen Helyer is my name.
Nicknames I have none.
For this I'm very sorry,
As it must be lots of fun.

HEURICH, ADELE NICKNAME: Del
Because my first name was too long to say, it was shortened to "Del."

HEWEL, ELIZABETH NICKNAME: Lee
Most Elizabeths are called Betty, but I am an exception. I am called "Lee." After addressing me by every possible nickname, my sister finally originated the name "Lee." Thus it stuck.

HEWEL, HELEN NICKNAME: Gypsy
Once for a masquerade party I decided to go as a gypsy. It was rather appropriate since I have black hair, dark eyes and dark skin. Thus the name "Gypsy" became mine.

HILL, MARJORIE NICKNAME: Marge or Margie
Very seldom do people call me Marjorie; for "Marge" or "Margie" is much shorter and easier to say. They come in handy when I am playing basketball or hockey, because they take less time to say.

HILLMAN, CHARLES NICKNAME: Glass Arm
While we were playing ball one Sunday, our pitcher blew up. The coach sent me in to the box to pitch which I had never done before. Having a weak arm the fellows began to call me "Glass Arm," or in other words "quit now and save your arm"; but I turned the tables on them, and became a valuable pitcher with a valuable "Glass Arm."

HMIELENSKI, THEODORE NICKNAME: Muffy
Of the many nicknames which I have been called, "Muffy" is the one that stuck.

HOFFMAN, CARL NICKNAME: Beans
Around home I was called by my middle name, Heinz; so the fellows began calling me "Beans," one of Heinz's fifty-seven varieties.

HOLMGREN, RUTH NICKNAME: Blondie
I was nicknamed "Blondie," because my complexion is light and I have blonde hair. My girl friend called me "Blondie," and the name has been with me for a long time.

HORBACHEWSKI, GEORGE NICKNAME: Harbie
Due to difficulty in pronouncing my last name, I acquired this.

HORNING, FREDERICK NICKNAME: Fritz
I am called "Fritz" by my friends because I play the "ump pah," or in common language, the tuba.

HORTON, VIRGINIA NICKNAME: Gingerpop
One night at my aunt's house, the older folks were drinking that which I couldn't have, so I asked for gingerpop. Ever since I've been called "Gingerpop."
HOUSEWORTH, CHARLES NICKNAME: Chuck
Cute boy scouts in Detroit gave it to me. (Short for Charles). My brother kept it going when we moved. Next time we move, I'm going to call him Alowishes in front of everybody strange.

HUDSON, BETHENE NICKNAMES: Betty, Taffy
"Betty" because it's easier to say than Bethene. "Taffy" because it is the color of my hair.

HUDSON, JACK NICKNAME: None
In all my life I've had some luck,
Because no nickname ever stuck,
I was born, baptized, and christened Jack,
But try to convince the teachers of that.

HUMMEL, ADRIENNE NICKNAME: Ade
It seems as if my name has always been difficult to say, so it has been shortened to "Ade."

JACOBOVIC, HELEN NICKNAME: None
I've never had a nickname although I've always wanted one. I still hope to get one. My friends never call me any other name than just plain Helen.

JAGER, KATHERINE NICKNAME: Dunky
Probably because as a kid I would dunk my cake in my milk when my mother wasn't looking.

JANDL, MARGOT NICKNAME: Spongy
My nickname is "Spongy" due to a permanent wave which I had one summer, which expanded and contracted just like a sponge when wet.

JANSON, ETHEL NICKNAME: Shrimp
I received my nickname, "Shrimp," when I was in grammar school and have been called that ever since. That is because in grade school I was always the shortest in the class, and I still am.

- JASCHKE, ANNELIESE NICKNAME: Fattie
I have been called this since I was a baby when my mother once found me in front of the cupboard eating a pound of lard she had in the house.
- JOHNSON, RAYMOND NICKNAME: Bike
I received this from friends when riding a motorcycle.
- JOHNSTON, JOHN NICKNAME: Ching
I always raved so much about Ching Johnson, the hockey player, that my friends started to call me "Ching."
- JONES, BARBARA NICKNAME: One of the Jones girls
You would like to hear my nickname? Or shall I say nicknames? Well—I have been called everything from Bubs to Gypsy Rose Jones, and I certainly can not account for the latter. I am also called "one of the Jones girls."
- JORDON, CLINTON NICKNAME: Clink
One of my friends remarked that my brains were a bit loose, and called me "Clink" instead of Clint.
- JUDD, FREDA NICKNAME: Knickers
I was called this, because I went sleigh riding one day with a group of friends and wore my father's knickers.
- KALCHUK, ALEXANDRIA NICKNAME: Allie or Sandy
People just shortened Alexandria.
- KALINOWSKI, HENRY NICKNAME: Hank
All little boys like to play "cops and robbers" and they like to have names that suit this game. Mine became "Hank," and up to this day the gang still call me that.
- KALINOWSKI, STANLEY S. NICKNAME: Stan
I'm as gentle as a lion and as rough as a mouse, but it is good to hear "Stan" in passing the halls.
- KAPLAN, EDWIN NICKNAMES: Stretch, Duke, Kapy, and Schlep
I have never had a nickname which did stick. In my time I have been called, "Stretch," "Duke," "Kapy," and "Schlep" and a host of other titles which good taste does not permit.
- KASHUBA, ANITA NICKNAME: Neut
I obtained this name through the use of the word "nut." Being from the South, I pronounced it "neut." From that time on, this has been my name.
- KAVANAUGH, ELEANOR NICKNAME: Bunny
All because I wore a white angora sweater, the girls at lunch began to call me "Bunny." Even Mrs. Davis wanted to pat it.
- KEHL, DOROTHY NICKNAME: Dot
"Dot" is my nickname because it takes too much time to say Dorothy.
- KELLEHER, ELIZABETH JANE NICKNAME: Betty Jane
My relatives first called me "Betty Jane" when I was about two. This was later shortened to "Betty."
- KELLER, JOHN NELSON NICKNAME: Professor
In the grades I studied continuously and was considered one of the brightest pupils in the school. Then I came to high school. Everything changed. My friends still call me "Professor," but for exactly the opposite reason.
- KELLY, CATHERINE NICKNAME: Kae
Like many people, as I grew older, I took a dislike to my first name Catherine, because it was so long. I shortened it to "Kay," but later, because there were too many girls with the same nickname, I changed it to "Kae."
- KELLY, FRANCIS RICHARD NICKNAME: Hank
Hank was a convenient handle when we played "cowboys and injuns" when I was a kid.
- KELLY, HELEN NICKNAME: Sear
I got this name from my sister because she couldn't say sister when she was small. I have been called this by my family.
- KENNEY, MILDRED NICKNAME: Kenny
I received this name because a few of my friends decided that "Millie" sounded "Umph" as they expressed it.
- KIESECKER, FRANK NICKNAME: Snatch
Because I use the phrase "Come on, let's get a little snatch," no matter where I am, I have been called "Snatch."
- KLAPPERT, EDWARD NICKNAME: None
I'm just plain me!
- KLEEMANN, MILDRED NICKNAME: Squeaky
Everyone calls me "Squeaky," because I am very temperamental, and it seems that when I become angry I raise my voice to a high pitch, which makes me sound squeaky.
- KNEPTON, ROBERT NICKNAME: Kneppie
"Kneppie" is a name with which I am stuck, And when people see me they try to duck, Because my colum is the "Spider and the Fly," But you can't blame me for wanting to try.
- KNEUER, HENRY NICKNAME: Chink
My nickname "Chink" was given me by my big brother. While in grammar school he was always called "Chink," and, when he left, I was stuck with the nickname for no reason that I can see. Can you? Shh!
- KNOESS, ROBERT NICKNAME: Nestle
This developed from the wrong pronunciation of my last name.
- KOBRINETZ, ALEXANDRIA NICKNAME: Scotty
About ten years ago Mother's favorite Scotty-dog died. Feeling very sorry over her loss, and wishing to remember him, the complications fell on me.
- KOKTISH, ADOLPH NICKNAME: Grubby
They call me "Grubby" for stout.
- KOMITOR, MALCOLM A. NICKNAME: Mak
They call me "Mak," I'm not to blame It's the initials of my name. Malcolm was too long to say, So "Mak" became my name.
- KOROLUCK, FRIEDA NICKNAME: Fritz
My girl friends call me Fritsie, Because they think it's enough; My brothers call me "Fritz," Because they think it's rough.
- KOSHANSKY, ANNA NICKNAME: Charlie
Due to my quick, short, flat steps, a neighbor started calling me "Charlie." He said it suited me, and continued to call me by that name.
- KOWALSKI, HENRY NICKNAME: Doc
Of all the nicknames, I have "Doc." This was given to me for trying to cure human and animal friends. Not because I was good, but I'd either make them or break them.
- KRAUSS, DOROTHY NICKNAME: Snoop
The natural nickname is "Dot," but recently it is "Snoop" (since I started being a reporter for a neighborhood newspaper).
- KUETTNER, KURT NICKNAME: Cutie or Dutch
I was nicknamed "Cutie" because the first four letters of my last name are pronounced "cute." Mr. Smith called me "Cutie" during football practice. The boys on the squad have called me that since then. I am called "Dutch" because I was born in Germany. I am known as "Dutch Cutie Kuettner."

- KUMPA, ELINOR NICKNAME: Skipper
I got this name because I like to go for rides in boats, and every day during the summer I go out in a friend's canoe. He started calling me "Skipper."
- KUSEN, PETER NICKNAME: None
I haven't a nickname, but most of my friends call me by my last name.
- LAKE, CHRISTOPHER NICKNAME: Columbus
I was blessed with this because of my first name, but it didn't stick until a pal (?) of mine called me from a distance before a crowd, and I played the sucker and answered him.
- LANE, ALICE M. NICKNAME: Alice in Wonderland
I was presented with a rabbit at my grammar school graduation, and as a result they nicknamed me so.
- LAURENCE, DOROTHY NICKNAME: Dot
Shorter version of Dorothy.
- LE COMPTE, OLIVER NICKNAME: Eight-Ball
I've been putting my foot in it for years, so thus: "Eight-ball."
- LEE, MILDRED NICKNAME: Milly
They call me Mil,
They call me Lee,
But most of all "Milly."
Don't you think it silly?
- LEROSE, MICHELINA NICKNAME: Mike
My friends call me "Mike" for short, for in an argument Michelina is too long.
- LESIW, STELLA NICKNAME: Bunny
I suppose that "Bunny" doesn't represent much, but because of shortness, and always being jumpy, I was named such.
- LESNICK, OLGA JOAN NICKNAME: None
No nickname have I
Although people still try;
They have to stop
For they're always a flop.
- LESTER, MURIEL NICKNAME: Les
On entering high school, I was known by my last name. It was soon shortened to "Les." Some of my friends call me this because they think I do "Les" studying than anybody else in my class.
- LEVINSON, FLORENCE NICKNAMES: Tippy, Flo, and Spunky
My father owns the Tip-Top Fruit Market, therefore, I am called "Tippy" from the name of the store. My name is too long to pronounce, if one is in a hurry; so they call me "Flo." I'm called "Spunky," because I've got enough nerve to say anything to anyone.
- LINTS, ELEANOR NICKNAME: Fritz
Because I liked to play with my friend's dog, whose name is Fritz, I have been teased about it. Ever since then I have been called "Fritz."
- LORENZ, EILEEN NICKNAMES: Junior, Birdie
When I was a little girl, I used to help my father with the work. As I grew older, he taught me how to decorate walls, varnish, paint, repair roofs, etc. It wasn't long before I acquired the name "Junior." I am also called "Birdie," because I sing.
- LOSEA, ALICE NICKNAME: Shorty
I acquired that name because of my height.
- LOUGHRAN, DONALD NICKNAME: Donald Duck
My name was started by Disney,
And it certainly is dizzy.
It isn't Mickey, darn the luck,
But it's just plain "Donald Duck."
- LOWE, WILLIAM NICKNAME: Brillo
Once upon a time I took a girl out and found that I had misplaced my wallet. She called me "Brillo,"
- because I cleaned her out of her money very thoroughly.
- LUCAS, FANNIE IRENE NICKNAME: Spinny
After my little brother saw all the spinach I could eat, he called me "Spinny."
- LUKE, RHODA NICKNAME: Dodes
I acquired this name when just a child,
And it has remained through each year.
Although the name is really quite mild,
It will last forever, I fear.
- LUNDSTROM, RUTH NICKNAME: Cookies
In my prime, I was a stout little jigger with large round cheeks. They reminded Mother of her cookies, and since then "Cookies" has stuck.
- MACDOWELL, ALMA NICKNAMES: Mac, Snookie-Puss
I have a variety of names. My parents call me "Honey." Some people call me "Mac." My grandmother calls me "Wursty"—why, I don't know. The name that gets in my hair is "Snookie-Puss"! I have a bad habit of making funny faces.
- MACKENZIE, JOHN NICKNAME: Mac
This is simply an abbreviation of the last name for convenience.
- MAITLAND, VIRGINIA NICKNAME: Jinny
I've been called all sorts of names,
In short for Virginia,
"Jeanie," "Jinny," I don't mind,
As long as you call me for dinnya.
- MAJKOWSKI, LOUIS NICKNAME: Mascut
Here and there and everywhere I go, everybody calls me "Mascut." And if you really want to know why, you take a look at my name, and you will see that it's easier to say "Mascut."
- MAKOPFSKE, RAYMOND NICKNAME: Mac
This comes from my last name.
- MANN, JEAN NICKNAME: Turtle
"Turtle" is my nickname
Though it doesn't bring much fame:
But all I know,
Is that I'm slow,
And that is how it came.
- MARCINKOSKI, EDWARD P. NICKNAME: Slim
I have been unfortunate enough to have a few nicknames. Such names as "Slim," "Lanky," and "Stretch" are not at all uncommon to me. I have also been called "Ed" and "Eddy," Edward too; but I don't like that.
- MARINO, ANGELA NICKNAME: Angie
It is an abbreviation of my name. It is not quite as stiff as Angela. My friends call me this rather than Angela which means Angel.
- MARTIN, VIRGINIA R. NICKNAME: Vitamins
While singing to the Tasty Yeast theme song, with two of my friends, which ended up with "I'm Pep, I'm Vim, I'm Vigor," I, instead of saying "I'm Vigor" with the rest, said "I'm 'Vitamins'."
- MASCOLL, CARSON NICKNAME: Corky
Back in the sixth grade, I drew a boat and named it Corky III. The following day I was addressed as "Corky." The name still stands pat.
- MASON, ELIZABETH NICKNAME: Little Bit
I think that I shall never see—
A person as short as poor little me.
So here while in solitude I sit,
I realize why they call me "Little Bit."
- MASON, HARRY NICKNAME: Hairy
This label was given to me while at camp. It is the usual nickname given to Harrys; but mine was given for a different reason. When I was taking my Junior Life Saving test, I almost scalped some of the subjects while trying the hair carry.

- MASSELL, ALICE NICKNAME: Jimmy
I acquired it from being a "tomboy" when I was younger.
- MATTHEWS, CHARLOTTE NICKNAME: Matty
This name was acquired from my last name.
- MATTHEWS, MILDRED NICKNAME: Ace
I was given this name, while on a visit up state, by a group of friends. We were playing Rummy, and I always held the aces.
- MATUZA, MARY NICKNAME: Juliet
Romeo is to blame
For "Juliet" my name.
- MAULL, JACQUELYN NICKNAME: Jackie
What can I write about Jackie?
Well, some folks'll think I am wackie;
But Jackie I am, and Jackie I'll be,
So please always call me this—"Jackie."
- McADAM, CLIFFORD A. NICKNAME: Mac
I'm called "Mac" not because I know Tillie the Toiler, but just because "Mac" is C.A.M. t'other way and C.A.M. is I.
- McCANCE, HELENE NICKNAME: Mac
My nickname is "Mac"—at least that is what some people call me.
- McCLAIR, HUGH NICKNAME: None
Many names have I been called,
But none of them have stuck.
So when I'm called to write this verse,
I'm really in a rut.
- McCARTHY, EUGENE NICKNAME: Mississippi
Perhaps my loquaciousness has acquired this name for me.
- McCLANE, JOSEPH NICKNAME: Dictator
I am very ambitious, as I wish to be the leader of a political party.
- McCLELLAND, JUNE NICKNAMES: June Bugs or Buggy
I don't know how it originated, but it was probably because the month of June is associated with bugs.
- McCORMACK, MILDRED NICKNAME: Nellie
It was started by calling me "Millie," and later it was turned into "Nellie." I have been called that ever since.
- McCREE, VIVIAN NICKNAME: The Aberdeen Assassin
Explanation—due to circumstances beyond my control, and from hereditary characteristics derived from my ancestor "Ivan the Terrible."
- McINTYRE, GLADYS NICKNAME: Meny
Gladys is too much trouble to say,
So here's hoping the name "Meny" will stay.
- McKAY, SHIRLEY NICKNAME: McGee
My nickname is "McGee," but how I ever attained it remains a mystery to me.
- McLAUGHLIN, ELSIE NICKNAME: None
Though it is, sad to relate, I have never had a nickname. I always regretted it because I thought it would be nice to be called something besides Elsie. There is still time to acquire one, and who knows maybe I shall.
- McWILLIAMS, JUDITH NICKNAME: Stupid
The boy who sits in back of me
Says that "Stupid" is my name;
But I'm not half so dumb as he,
Therefore my brains are not to blame.
- McWILLIAMS, NANCY NICKNAMES: Mickey, Nan, Mae, Tough
"Mickey" because I'm Irish,
"Nan" because it's short,
"Mae" because it's quick to say,
"Tough" because I snort:
- Such are the nicknames I've received.
Some have made me rather peeved.
Here they are, and that's my story.
Who knows, perhaps they'll bring me glory.
- MERSCHROD, DORIS NICKNAME: None
Many kind-hearted souls have given me nicknames. Yet, thank goodness, none of them have lasted more than a few weeks; so I'm still just Doris.
- MEYER, PAULA NICKNAME: Polly
Probably because of my fondness for graham crackers.
- MILLER, FLORENCE NICKNAME: Mary Ann
My name is "Mary Ann," because I'm the Miller's daughter.
- MIRKOVICH, JOSEPH NICKNAME: Mirk
When I go to Jersey, I am called "Mirk" to distinguish between my cousin and me, since we both have the same name.
- MONAHAN, MARIE NICKNAME: Mickey
Me name is "Mickey." The only reason I can see why they call me this is because me grandmother and grandfather were born in Ireland; so the top of the morning to you, me darlin, and the rest of the day to meself.
- MOORE, NANCY B. NICKNAME: Squeaks
I've never had a real nickname, and I certainly wanted one, because it seemed quite the style: However, I have acquired "Squeaks" within the last few months, due to my squeaking when excited or tickled. They say I'd make a perfect sister for a mouse.
- MIRUS, SYLVIA NICKNAME: Syl or Pete
"Syl" to shorten Sylvia.
"Pete" after "Pete the Tramp," because I am so slow.
- MURDOCK, KATHRYN NICKNAME: Tommy
I have had many nicknames: such as Kay, Kate, Katty, or even Katie—but let's forget that one. Just recently my friends have dubbed me "Tommy." Just why, I don't know, except that most of them have boy's names. This, by the way, is my favorite.
- MURRAY, AGNES NICKNAME: Tweet
Every time I got with a group of girls I started them singing "Let's All Sing Like The Birdies Sing," so they decided to call me "Tweet."
- MURRAY, ANITA NICKNAME: Nerts
Once I was a bouncing baby,
Dressed in frilly skirts;
So now imagine Ma's disgust,
To hear them call me "Nerts."
- NELSON, ROBERT NICKNAME: Baby Face Nelson
The real one was chased by the "G" Men, and I'm chased by the girls.
- NEUMANN, JEANETTE NICKNAME: Buttons
Sewing buttons on is an awful task for me.
When I can use a pin instead,
It's much more pleasure for me.
- NICHOLETTI, SAMUEL NICKNAME: Duke
The name was given to me by my brother because I stayed out late evenings, and arrived home at all hours of the morning.
- NICHOLS, ELIZABETH NICKNAME: Nickie
The postman christened me thus several years ago.
- NIELI, CATHERINE NICKNAME: Kitty
Being too small to be called "Cat" for short, my name was changed to "Kitty."
- NOLAN, PEGGY NICKNAME: Peg
I haven't any nickname, except if you want to say that Peggy is one, but please don't. Every year before Regents I have a hard job convincing my teachers that I've always used Peggy on my Regents papers, and that it isn't a nickname. Of course, there's always "Peg."

- OBERKRESER, ROBERT NICKNAME: Bob
I was called Bob before I came to Hempstead High. When I entered, I was Robert until in Arithmetic class Mr. Hayes, the instructor, called me "Bob." Since then most of the students call me that, too.
- O'BRIEN, JOHN NICKNAME: Tex
Due to my extensive travel in the Southwest and my affiliation with the Texas Rangers.
- O'BRIEN, RITA NICKNAME: Obie
This name originated a few years ago while I was on my summer vacation. I was sitting on the beach with a group of boys and girls when a friend of mine approached and said "Hi, Obie!" The nickname seemed to please my friends, and since then "Obie" is the name.
- ODELL, EVELYN NICKNAME: Odel
I have never been blessed with a nickname that has remained with me over a year. The nickname that has stayed with me the longest, however, is "Odel," which was derived from my last name.
- O'LEARY, EDWARD NICKNAME: Sourpuss
"Sourpuss" I was called,
As I wandered down the hall.
- OLSEN, EVELYN NICKNAME: Evvy
I have been given this name by my friends because there is another Evelyn in our group.
- OLSEN, MILDRED NICKNAME: Blondie
The reason's obvious why my friends call me "Blondie."
- OSWALD, MADELEINE NICKNAME: Ozzie
"Ozzie" is just a shortening of my last name.
- PABO, NICHOLAS NICKNAME: Bapo
It is natural that my nickname should be "Nick," but some fellows call me (pronounce loudly) "Bapo." The name brings the boys back to one day in Prospect School, when Miss Jones made a slight mistake in the pronunciation of my name on the roll call, and called out: "Bapo present?"
- PATTERSON, KATHLEEN NICKNAME: Katrinks
I, too, have one of those things
And the one I was willed with is, "Katrinks."
- PECK, ALFRED NICKNAME: Al
Origin: obvious.
- PEHR, HILDA NICKNAME: Peaches
My friends call me "Peaches." Since my name is Pehr (pear), they call me "Peaches" just to be different and to make me angry.
- PELLICANE, MARGARET NICKNAME: Margie
When I was a child my playmates found it easier to call me "Margie" than Margaret.
- PETERS, EDNA NICKNAME: Pete
"Pete" is just a shortening of the last name.
- PEYTON, HANNAH NICKNAME: Han
"Billy" and "Mugs" were attempts at nicknaming me, by two of the many people who don't like my first name; but the only one I am now called by is just the contraction "Han."
- PFAUTZ, ELINOR NICKNAME: None
I haven't a nickname and don't know what to do. Some say invent one, and others say foo;
So I hired a girl to write this rhyme
And now what's happened? I'm in debt a dime.
- PILLER, FRANCES NICKNAME: Pill
Some are Moe,
Some are Joe,
And some are just plain Bill.
But of all the names for one to have
I am blessed with "Pill."
- PONOROFF, NORMA NICKNAME: Norma
"Ponnie" this, "Ponnie" that,
Gosh how they tease,
Just call me Norma,
If you please.
- POWELL, MARGARET NICKNAME: Marge
I haven't what you would call a nickname, although most of my friends call me "Marge." How it originated I don't exactly know. I suppose Margaret was too long; so they shortened it to "Marge."
- PRICE, HILDA NICKNAME: Billie
My nickname is "Billie" because, I suppose, I was born on the first of July; maybe, too, because the name would have been William if I had been a boy.
- PRINDLE, PAULINE VIRGINIA NICKNAME: Polly
My real name was too long, and so everyone called me "Polly."
- QUINN, WALTER NICKNAME: Hypo
Not because I am heavy, but because I spend too much time on photography, I am "Hypo."
- RADZIEWICZ, STANLEY NICKNAME: Radz
My full name was too hard to pronounce, so my friends shortened it to "Radz."
- REDFIELD, DOROTHY NICKNAME: Toot
The nickname that has been given to me is "Toot." My mother bestowed it upon me at a very early age; I couldn't tell you why.
- REGAN, DOROTHY NICKNAME: Dot
"Dot" is just a short cut.
- REMLING, RUTH NICKNAME: Stretch
Originated by a "Huckleberry Finn" for being sleepy.
- RHODES, KATHERINE NICKNAME: Kay
"Kay," a contraction of Katherine.
- RICE, DOROTHY NICKNAME: Dotty
The bane of all the Dorothys is being called "Dotty." I, too, must bear up under such a common nickname.
- RICHARDSON, DE VAN NICKNAME: None
Although ah have lived up heah in the North practically all of mah life, ah was born in the most southern city in the United States. Many do not know that this city is Key West, Florida.
- ROBERTSON, FRANKLYN NICKNAME: Popeye
I was given this name by a crowd of fellows that I palled with. They got the idea for this from a habit I had of sticking my chin out all the time. My chin really did stick out when I chewed gum, so that's where the idea really came from.
- ROBINSON, ELLEN NICKNAME: Proxie
"Proxie" for peroxide,
I guess I'll always be,
But isn't that an awful name,
For a natural blonde like me?
- ROCHE, ELIZABETH NICKNAME: Smudge
I am called this, because I always have ink smudges on my face.
- ROCHE, FLORENCE NICKNAME: Slats
When I began to grow up and didn't fill out, my father gave me the name "Slats," because he claimed when I turned sideways you could just about see me.
- ROEPKE, ALICE NICKNAME: Porky
Having always been tall and slender, I wanted to put on weight. By some stroke of fate I began to do so. I was proud so told everyone. Someone remarked in fun that I was as fat as a pig, so "Porky" has remained my handle ever since.
- ROGERS, GRACE NICKNAME: Gracie
"Gracie" is what I am usually called, but I have a nickname given me by the usual teasing big brother. I wouldn't reveal that.

- ROGERS, RUTH MAE NICKNAME: Ruthie
 ROJECKI, THEODORE NICKNAME: Hutch
 On the football field, a few years ago, I came across a fellow who did not know my name. He was rather doubtful about what to call me in order to get my attention. Finally he perked up with a name on the order of "Hutch." The name has since been modified to "Hotch," a very peculiar name for a very peculiar fellow.
- ROSENBAUM, SIGMUND NICKNAME: Cueball
 Because two years ago my head underwent an operation, whereby my hair was cut off similar to a motor-man's haircut, I have been called "Cueball."
- ROTH, LEO NICKNAME: Nosey
 People who really know me realize that I am a very serious-minded and studious person. I never interfere with my fellow students' affairs; therefore I cannot imagine why I am called "Nosey." Can you?
- RUFFLE, CLYDE NICKNAME: Ruff
 The name "Ruff" to which I have grown accustomed to answer did not result from any brutalities on my part; but rather, I fear, from the great amount of effort required to say Ruffle.
- RUTAN, WARREN NICKNAME: Pappy
 "Pappy" originated when the boys got the idea of imitating hill-billies. When this fad died away a few names stuck.
- SADOSKI, HELEN NICKNAME: Mickey
 SANBORN, JOHN NICKNAME: Jack
 I have no nickname outside of that ordinary one "Jack," but I prefer that any day to "John."
- SANDAU, WERNER NICKNAME: No nickname wanted!
 Oh, what an awful shame,
 Not to have a good nickname.
- SAUSKI, HELEN NICKNAME: Curlytop
 The locks which formed her curly crop
 Gave her the name of "Curlytop."
- SCHLAPP, DOLORES NICKNAME: Little Bits
 This nickname was acquired because of my diminutive stature.
- SCHMIDT, ANNA NICKNAME: Snooks
 When I was small enough to walk under the table,
 I was called Snooks; but it has been dropped since.
- SCHMIDT, DORIS NICKNAME: Snooks, Hon, or Dolly
 My Dad calls me "Snooks"
 My Mom calls me "Hon"
 My Sis calls me "Dolly"
 Gosh, don't we have fun!
- SCHMIDT, LEONARD NICKNAME: Dutchy
 Nicknames, the most dreaded curse of the ages, seem to be my lot. As soon as one is almost forgotten, another pops up. About five years ago, I was known as "Shorty," "Shrimp," or "Half-pint." Today I am called "Dutchy," "Sampson," "Ace," or "Dapper." "Dutchy" seems to be most popular with my friends. You can see what an awful time I would have if I took all these names seriously.
- SCHOENBERGER, GRACE NICKNAME: Pug
 Although I have no nickname at school, I always have one at home. My older brother keeps dubbing me with some awful name that doesn't make sense. The most recent name is "Pug," because my nose is funny and crinkly at the end,—so he says. I disagree with him, but what can I do?
- SCHONNING, ROBERT NICKNAME: Stretch or Oscar
 I got my nickname from the company for which I work, the Western Union. When I first started working, I was rather stout, so I was called "Stretch." After working a few months I lost weight, and, being a Norwegian, they call me "Oscar."
- SCHUESSLER, OSCAR NICKNAME: Jim
 Received long ago because people felt sorry about that first name of mine.
- SEAMAN, LEWIS NICKNAME: Bus
 It may give one the impression I am big, but I am still quite small.
- SEE, ALMA NICKNAME: Snooky-Puss
 Goodness only knows how I got my nickname. It's very hard to find one for Alma, or at least I've found it so; but since I used to beg for one, they called me "Snooky-Puss."
- SEPENDA, JOHN NICKNAME: Studious
 Because of the results of a certain contest.
- SERDOCK, DOROTHY NICKNAME: Dot
 I am no spot,
 I am no blot,
 And yet they call me "Dot."
 Can it be I am a Hottentot?
- SEYMOUR, IDA NICKNAME: None
 I've been called everything under the sun according to the circumstance; but however that may be, I haven't a decent nickname to call my own.
- SHANNON, MYRTLE NICKNAMES: Dolly and Myrt
 At home I am called "Dolly," the name has stuck with me since I was small. Here in school my friends call me "Myrt," which fits me much better.
- SIEGMANN, SHIRLEY NICKNAME: Dreamy Eyes
 They call me "Dreamy Eyes," because I'm always half asleep.
- SILIPO, EUGENE NICKNAME: Honest Gene
 Mr. Fay gave me this name when I was in charge of baseball equipment. He did not, of course, mean to cast any aspersions in regard to my sense of honor.
- SINKAWICH, FRANK NICKNAME: Sinky
 I'm called "Sinky," because you can say it in one breath.
- SIUDMAK, EDWARD NICKNAME: Prof
 My hair is always long, and besides that I play the fiddle.
- SMITH, ALIDA NICKNAME: Lee or Shorty
 I have a perfectly sane nickname. It is merely a short form of my first name, "Lee." However, not mentioning any names (though he knows who I mean) an ingenious fellow (or is he?) has labelled me "Shorty."
- SMITH, HAROLD NICKNAME: Moe or Joe
 One of my pals told me a story, and for the sake of a name, he used "Moe" and "Joe." The names were funnier than the story, so we became "Moe" and "Joe."
- SMITH, PHILIP NICKNAME: Smitty
 It seems that most Smiths are called "Smitty."
- SODANO, SALVATORE NICKNAME: Sal
 The nickname that has been bestowed upon me is that of "Sal." It was given to me by one of my friends while we were playing a fast game of tennis. In heated excitement after I had made a fine shot, he said rather excitedly, "That was a swell shot, Sal."
- SOUTHARD, JOSEPH NICKNAME: Joban
 One of my pals nicknamed me "Joban" because he thought that I played the banjo. It really was the fiddle.
- SOVIK, PAULINE NICKNAME: Polly
 It seems that I am always talking at the wrong time, and to make matters worse I am always eating crackers. For those reasons, I have been known as "Polly the Parrot."
- SPARACINO, VINCENT NICKNAME: Sparo
 My nickname is "Sparo" or "Sparrow," which originated by the pronunciation of my last name.

- Sparacino. My more amusing friends call me "Curly" due to a numerous bunch of locks on the top of my dome.
- SPERANZA, FRANCES NICKNAMES: Chick and Shorty
My real name is Frances, my family calls me "Chick," and to top it all, my friends call me "Shorty." What's to be done about it but take it and like it.
- SPRENG, GRACE NICKNAME: Gracie
As for my nickname
You have guesses three.
You are right all times;
It is "Gracie."
- STANDISH, VIRGINIA ANN NICKNAME: Ginny
What girl named Virginia hasn't been nicknamed "Ginny"?
- STEWART, ELEANOR NICKNAME: Treasy
The family has called me "Treasy" ever since I arrived in this world. The boy, whom I used to live next door to, called me Pat, and all my girl friends call me that. One of them used to call me "El"—but—Oh! Well!
- STRINGHAM, BEVERLY NICKNAME: Chic
When I had the chicken pox, I was very sick and I looked funny, so my cousin called me "Chic."
- STUBBE, EDWIN NICKNAME: Stub-bee
Stubbe is the most mispronounced word I ever heard.
- SUHEKE, FRANK NICKNAME: Sookie
The boys in school called me that because it sounded like the pronunciation of my last name.
- SWENSON, ALICE NICKNAME: Pee Wee
In grammar school I was the smallest one in most of my classes, so one of the older girls named me "Pee Wee." I am still called by that name.
- SWEZEY, KENNETH NICKNAME: Swezey
I have never been given a nickname, although almost all my friends call me "Swezey." As you can see it is nothing but my last name.
- SZCZEPKOWSKI, FRANCES NICKNAME: Penny
My nickname once was "Penny"
'Cause those I loved to save,
Tho' people gave me many
Of the sum I cannot rave.
- THOMPSON, HARRY NICKNAME: Harry
Many a nickname I have had,
Such as "Tom-Tom," "Joe" and "Spook."
But they just passed like a common fad,
And my friends (?) all call me "Harry."
- THOMPSON, LOZERE NICKNAME: Louzee
The first name was shortened to Lozee, and then became "Louzee" because it was easier to say. (Only use this if you use the explanation).
- THORNE, MURIEL NICKNAME: Moof
Because she couldn't say my name,
A little babe of three
Dubbed someone "Moof";
In truth, "Moof" is me.
- THORNTON, JOSEPH NICKNAME: Joe
"When they filled the birth certificate in
With the name Joseph below,
The little brat burst forth in stormy din
With cries of "Just make it Joe."
- TOLVE, ANGELO NICKNAME: Jello
A teacher put the accent on the last syllable of my name, and my friends dropped the first. This resulted in them calling me by the name of that well advertised dessert, "J-e-l-l-o."
- TONER, GRACE NICKNAME: Gracie
I got my nickname, "Gracie," from the fact that I have such a particular way of laughing at things that appear funny.
- TORIO, NICHOLAS NICKNAME: Nick
A shortcut for Nicholas.
- TOTH, STEPHEN NICKNAME: Suzie
They usually call me "Suzie,"
And occasionally Two-Gun, too;
But my real name is
"The Fighting Bull" of old Hempstead High.
- TROUVE, LOUIS NICKNAME: Breezer Trouve
Because on the last lap everybody breezes past.
- ULLRICH, FLOREEN NICKNAME: Reenie, the Fith, or Fithy
At parties I often attempt impersonations. At one party I was asked to do a lispng act, and then to do my fish face. I tried hard; but it was my undoing. In explanation of the fish act, I continued to lisp; and since then all the friends who attended the party hail me, "Fithy."
- URLACHER, EVELYN NICKNAME: Annabelle
I acquired this nickname on a country school bus in a nicknaming contest. They took the popular songs of the time and gave each one a name from them. Mine just happened to be "Annabelle," which has become a lasting nickname.
- VANDER VOORT, ROBERT NICKNAME: Vandy
A contraction of the last name.
- VARNEY, ELIZABETH NICKNAME: Lizzy
Of all the nicknames going round,
They handed me the worst in town.
So original, different, and obsolete,
I consider it my greatest treat.
It is that queenly name of fame,
Yes, "Lizzy" is my terrible name.
- VIGLIETTA, CLEMENTINA NICKNAMES: Clem and Mindy
I am usually called "Clem," which is just the shortened form of Clementina. My friends think this is a masculine name; so they call me "Mindy," which they say is derived from Clementina.
- VONASEK, JOHN NICKNAME: Sunny
Gone with the wind went all my nicknames that I liked, but "Sunny," the one I hate, still sticks.
- VONASEK, MARGARET NICKNAME: Marge
A short cut for my name.
- WAHL, ELEANOR NICKNAME: Bunny
I once had to go on a diet of vegetables. Rabbits eat a lot of greens, and my cousins decided to call me "Bunny." Ever since then they have called me that, and now the whole family calls me "Bunny."
- WALDO, VIRGINIA NICKNAME: Ginny
It seems to be the custom that all Virginias be called "Ginny."
- WALEK, ELEANOR NICKNAME: Stringie
Because I am tall and thin, my friends gave me the nickname of "Stringie"; which is a short word for Stringbean. They think this is a good name for me, and that there is a slight resemblance between us; but I don't.
- WALTERS, CAROLYN NICKNAME: Lynne
I'm called Lynne, very conveniently substituted for Carolyn.
- WALSLEBEN, WILLIAM NICKNAME: Bill
My nickname is far from outstanding. It isn't even a true nickname, but rather a contraction. It happens to be ordinary "Bill."
- WARD, WARREN NICKNAME: None
I have no nickname.
Some have thought it a shame,
And tried to use "Sap" and "Whacky,"
And things like that-ky.
It is well they never stick
Because someone would surely think me a nut.
(Especially after this.)

- WARNER, RICHARD NICKNAME: Dick
It seems to be an unwritten law that all Richards are called "Dick."
- WARNER, ROBERT NICKNAME: Slugger
"Slugger"—because of my uncanny ability to start fights with hall cops.
- WEINER, JULIUS NICKNAME: Wein
My most used nickname is a runoff from my last name, which is Weiner; and thus, as it is human nature to shorten or be brief in this age of modernistic thoughts, it has been labelled "Wein."
- WEINER, MILTON NICKNAME: Professor
Because of a series of little educational lectures that I have given to the boys.
- WEISS, WALTER NICKNAME: None
I have the last name of Weiss, The reason I do not know why, Just as I have no nickname, Gee whiz, sigh, sigh.
- WEST, WALTER NICKNAME: Westy
I imagine it came from my last name.
- WETRICH, JEFFREY NICKNAME: Jeff
My name is Jeffry Wetrich, and I have the most odd, irrelevant nickname of "Jeff."
- WHITE, WILLIAM NICKNAME: Slug or Killer
In respect to nicknames I have led a drab existence, but I bestow nicknames lavishly upon my friends. Of late I begin to hear myself hailed with such questionable titles as "Slug" or "Killer."
- WHITNEY, ANNE NICKNAME: Annie
I can't remember when it happened, but that aristocratic e has mysteriously turned Anne into Annie; perhaps it was helped by receiving my graduation diploma under that name.
- WIEMANN, GERTRUDE NICKNAME: Gert
It seems that Gertrude takes too long to pronounce, so I am called "Gert."
- WIESENDANGER, RUTH NICKNAME: Weezie
I have inherited this name from my sisters. I think my oldest sister was first called that by someone who couldn't pronounce her last name. Other people adopted it, and so it stuck.
- WILKENS, RUTH NICKNAME: Rudy
As some people find it hard to call you by your right name, they pick it apart until they find one they like better.
- WILSON, WILLIAM NICKNAME: Wee Willie
"Wee Willie" is my nickname. Some people say that I got it because of my height and weight; but I hate to discuss those things.
- WOLK, PAUL NICKNAME: Foo
"Foo is my name,"
And goo are to blame,
And I goo mean foo.
- WOOD, ELIZABETH NICKNAME: Babs
During my senior year, I was in a play, and I took the role of "Babs." Ever since then my friends have called me by this name.
- WOOLLEY, ETHEL NICKNAME: Teddy
There is a girl called "Teddy"
Who was originally Ethel, Dear;
But how she got the boy's name
Is still not very clear.
- WULBERS, CHARLES NICKNAME: Carl
This used to be my name in Germany.
- WYSOWSKI, MITRO NICKNAME: Dude
My friends give me this name because I never wear a necktie to school. One day I came to school with a flashy one, so they called me "Dude."
- XANTHOS, WILLIAM NICKNAME: X
My name is my own personal property, but my nickname is the other fellows' worry. It is called "X." It sounds mysterious, but the only crime I have ever committed was killing a joke.
- ZAHN, MATTHEW NICKNAME: Red
With a flaming, fiery, crimson head
What other name would fit, but "Red."
- ZALEWSKI, ANNE NICKNAME: None
Of nicknames I have none.
Won't somebody please find me one?
- ZALUSKY, JOHN NICKNAME: Rusco
Nicknames of "Baloney John," "Ace," "Butch," and others were given me; but the one which is sticking yet is "Rusco," a nickname of unknown origin.
- ZARATON, FRANK NICKNAME: Zart
My yearning for a tasty tart,
While drifting away to the land of art,
To be pierced by cupid's dart,
All rhyme to form my nickname,
"Zart."
- ZEMBROSKI, STELLA NICKNAMES: Zeme, Sandy
"Zeme" was just a shortcut to my last name, and it has clung ever since. "Sandy" originated while I was at the beach, and was being molested by some life guards who were trying to find out what the initial "S" sewed on my suit stood for. My initials are S. A. M. Z., closest to "Sandy."
- ZIMINSKI, HELEN NICKNAME: None
Helen it is,
And always shall be;
Because no nickname
Has been given to me.
- ZIMINSKI, MARY T. NICKNAME: Zim
I suppose they call me this because they can say it faster.
- ZISMAN, MILTON NICKNAME: Stretch
They call me "Stretch," because I am only 6 feet ½ inches tall.
- ZNAK, MARY NICKNAME: Manya
I think it is quite nice; for it came from the name Mary. "Manya" in Russian means Mary.

FRUSTRATION

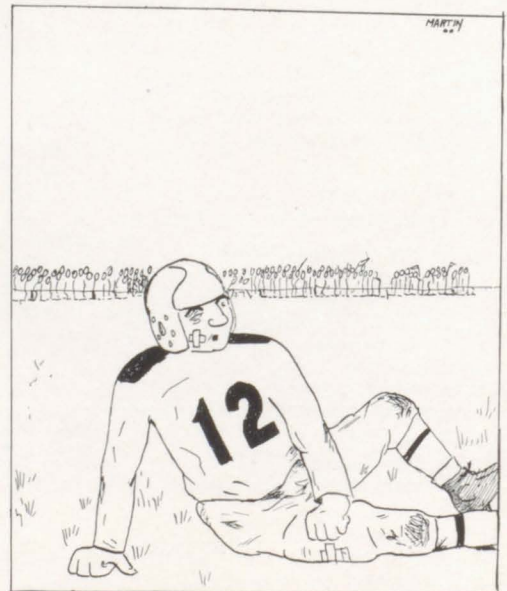

The quick, efficient railroad train
 Can't thrill me like the sound
 Of fierce and stormy ocean waves,
 As on the shore they pound.
 And while I yearn for passing boats
 In railroad cars I'm found.

TRIOLET

An open window comes in handy
 To help make life less boring.
 If drafts you like, you'll find them dandy.
 An open window comes in handy
 To call Joe to bring up candy;
 He does, with heart adoring.
 An open window comes in handy
 To help make life less boring.

Young Wife: "Post offices are very careless sometimes, don't you think so?"
Sympathetic Friend: "Yes, my dear, why do you ask?"
Young Wife: "My husband sent me a post card from Philadelphia where he is staying on a business venture, and the silly post office people put an Atlantic City mark on the envelope."

Mr. Henpeck: "My wife has a terrible memory."
Friend: "Why? Doesn't she remember anything at all?"
Mr. Henpeck: "Worse! She remembers everything!"

Police Sergeant: "I think we have found your missing wife."
Francic Husband: "Is that so? What does she say?"
Police Sergeant: "Nothing."
Husband: "She says nothing? That's not my wife!"

"And in front of all those people you say to me,
'C'mon, Snake, let's wiggle!'"

CLASS ROOM BONERS

HISTORY CLASS

Choo Goo didn't study his history lesson. The following are the results. Definitions:

Vassal—1—something out of which to drink, 2—something to sail in.

Fief—a woodwind instrument.

Moat—a vassal, such as row moat, steam moat, or motor moat.

Chivalry—something we wouldn't know about.

Feudalism—type of private warfare waged in the Kentucky mountains.

Noble—a prize awarded to the author of the best play, book, etc.

Relief—a check given to the poor by the government.

Aids—girls in the Pen and Ink Club.

When the teacher assigned her charges to find out what caused the fall of Rome, one brain-truster claimed to have read a book called "Greece Under the Romans."

Benjamin Franklin, in spite of his resolutions, was not very strict when it came to temperance. In fact, the only reason he had Philadelphia equipped with lights was so he could find his way home at night. He didn't wake up to greet the dawn, he stayed up to greet it.

"Didn't I tell you to stop drinking coffee, Weiner?"

Pop Hayes: "Order! Please."
Innocent little voice: "Make it three short beers!"

He stepped out boldly into the street;
No rubbers had he upon his feet;
No umbrella had he—nor a coat,
His new straw—well, just to note,
Far be it from him to start complaining,
He didn't get wet—it wasn't raining.
