Dear Graduates:

You have just completed four very important years at Hempstead High School. You have shown your abilities in your examinations, sports contest and musical and dramatic performances. Some of the important things you have gained during these four years are intangible—very difficult to measure. We hope you have developed a sense of personal moral responsibility toward your own behavior—that you have come to grips with your responsibility to the society in which you live and that you will make a real contribution to that society. I feel that the real measure of your future success as a class and as individuals will be your performance with regard to these intangible factors as well as your other achievements.

Sincerely yours,

Arthur Flax

Colonial 1968

Lessons to be learned are around us always, usually in the most unusual places.

As the final whistle blew at this year's last football game the cry arose, "We're Number One!". Caught in the excitement of the moment, we must be forgiven if the importance of the foundation upon which the achievement was constructed escaped our immediate recognition, a foundation involving an appreciation of those fundamental values and methods so important in surmounting the many difficulties encountered on the way to any worthwhile accomplishment. The building blocks of knowledge, conviction, determination, labor, courage, cooperation and leadership are always available to us as individuals or as a society. Whether or not we use them is always a personal decision and what we decide as individuals inevitably affects the welfare and success of the group, the strength and importance of the structure.

It is my sincere hope that the Senior Class of 1968, in the many years ahead, will keep fresh in their individual and collective memory those values inherent in being "Number One."

Voting for the abolition of everything.

Here come the clowns ...!

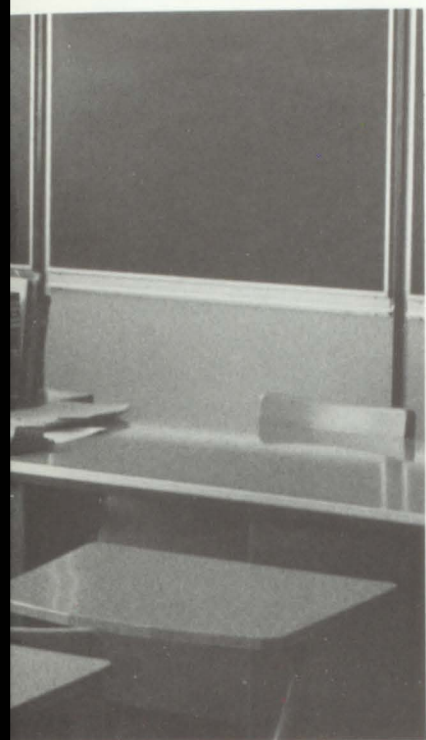

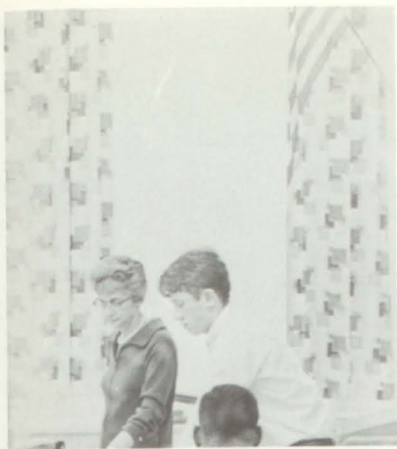

Did you ever get the feeling you were in the wrong room?

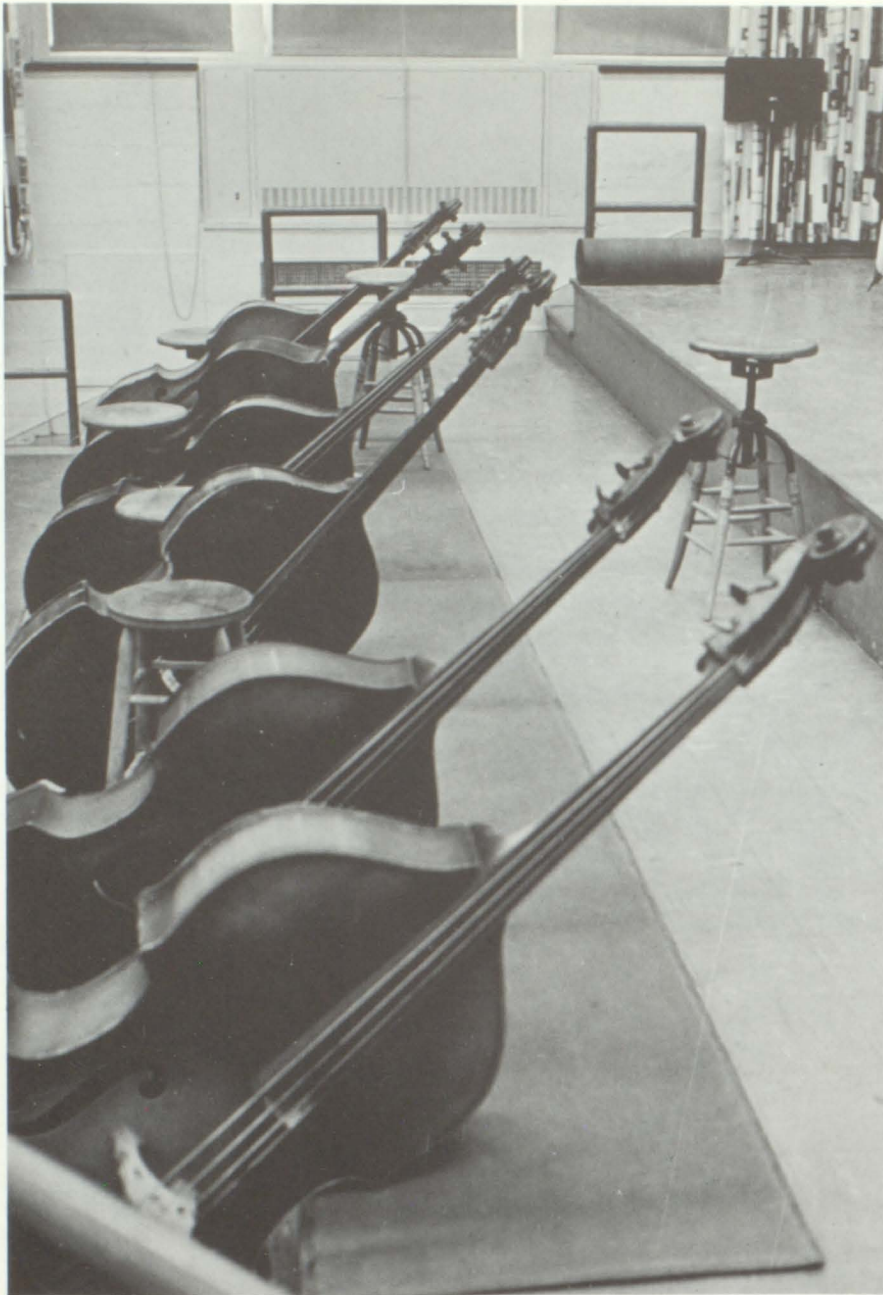

Very good ... considering today's Friday!

Today and today

There is no frigate like a book—and no rear admiral like Miss Herod

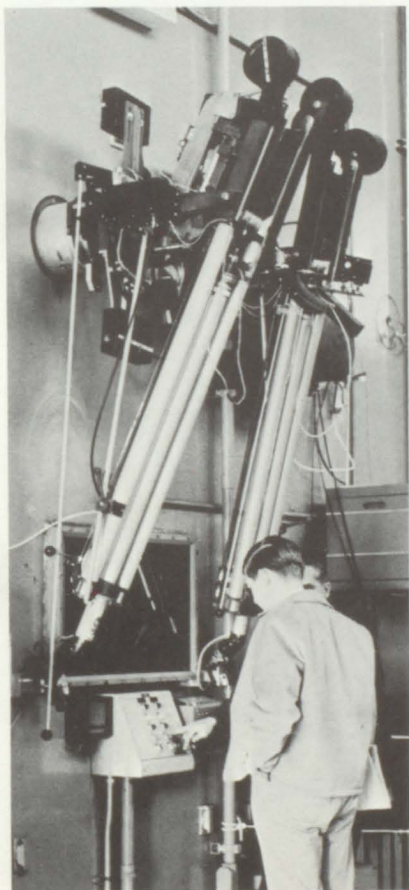

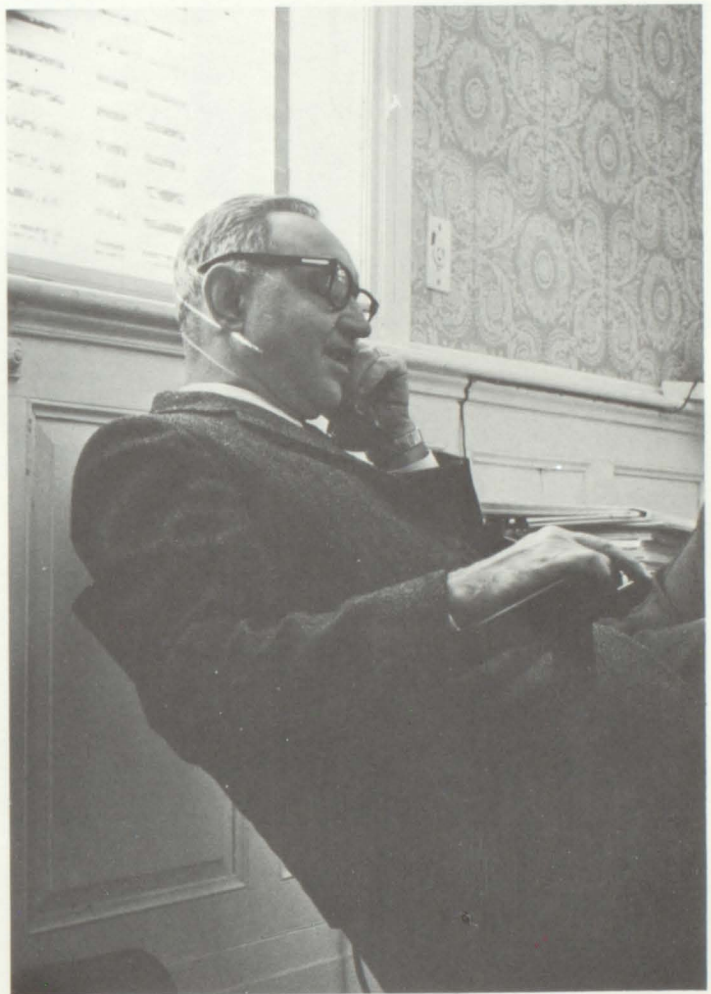

Up, up, and away

and today ...

This operates the water fountains?

"Mrs. Jones? Yes, I'm afraid he did it again ..."

Down the up staircase.

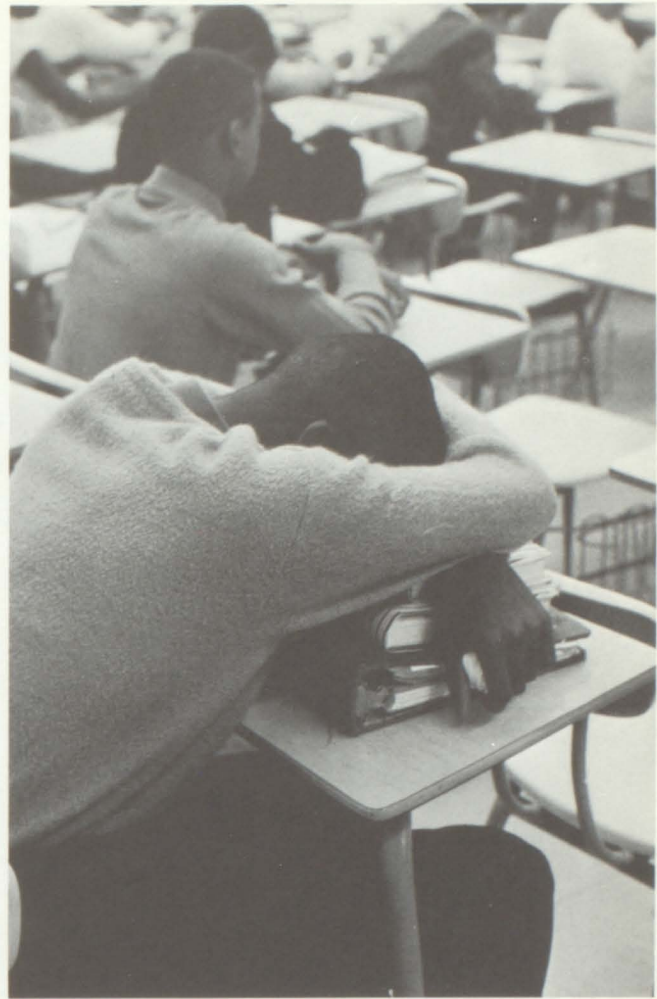

The one on the right is Clyde

I dreamt I was a member of the Bolshoi ...
