MR. STANLEY SILVERMAN

FROM THE BOSS . . .

Stan Silverman is one of the most dedicated and inspirational teachers I have encountered in my professional career. He combines high intelligence with wit and enthusiasm, to create an atmosphere of learning and mental stimulation. Every student leaves Mr. Silverman's classroom better educated and wiser than when he or she entered. That is the measure of a good teacher.

C. Mills

How can one honor a man who has contributed so much to the educational development of students? How does one show gratitude to an educator who gives one hundred and one percent to his job? We, the Hempstead High School Colonial staff, have decided upon a way. We would like to proudly dedicate this 1984 edition of our yearbook to Stanley Silverman.

Mr. Silverman, through the course of his years as an educator in Hempstead High, helped to establish a well-rounded educational experience for all students. He has taught things that can not be learned from a mere textbook. Through such programs as the Molloy Greenhouse Program, The Minority Engineering Program, Hofstra Seminar, and the National Honor Society, he has made students aware of life beyond high school. Mr. Silverman has also increased computer literacy and has given needed guidance on meeting college challenges successfully. These two areas are very important in the future of many students.

Moreover, through his teaching abilities and unique personality, not only has Mr. Silverman gained the respect and admiration of his students, but also his fellow educators. Mrs. Beverly Briedis, who has worked with him for many years, had this to say, "Mr. Silverman is a dedicated teacher who spends hours of his own time working for and with our students." Also, Ms. Sandra Dunn, who worked with Mr. Silverman to establish many programs, said, "Mr. Silverman has a commitment to excellence. He is a man of principal and integrity. This dedication is an honor for Mr. Silverman . . . an excellent choice."

Mr. Silverman's dedication to his work has earned him the respect of his colleagues as well as his students. Hence, for all his hard work above and beyond the call of duty, for all the help and guidance given to pave our way into the future, and even for his rotten jokes, we, of the Hempstead Colonial Staff, would like to warmly and gratefully thank Mr. Silverman . . . our number one friend.

The Physics class of 1983-1984 would like to acknowledge the one piece of information we have learned and can use for the future "It's Just Not Right!"

▷ HOMECOMING 83

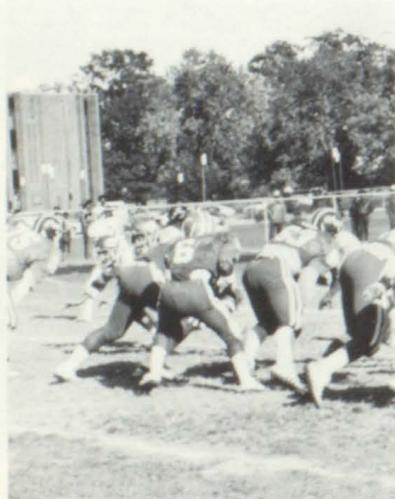

HEMPSTEAD VS. SEWANAKA:

At 1:30 p.m. on the well worn football field at Hempstead High School, another chapter was about to be written in the on running saga of Tiger Victory. Amidst the homecoming festivities, the Hempstead Tigers squared off against the Sewanhaka Indians for a match that can only be described as "The Sewanhaka Slaughter."

Hempstead went into the game with a record of 1 win, 1 loss, and 0 ties. But, as good as the Indians appeared, the Roaring Tigers were not to be put off. Led by the excellent supervision of Coach Krumenacker and team captains; Arrion Cross, Eugene Grant, Darrel Jones, Norman Deena, Albert Walker and James Butler. The Tigers once again triumphed over their rivals. Encouraged by the roar of their fans the tigers opened a gap that even the determined Indians could not hope to fill.

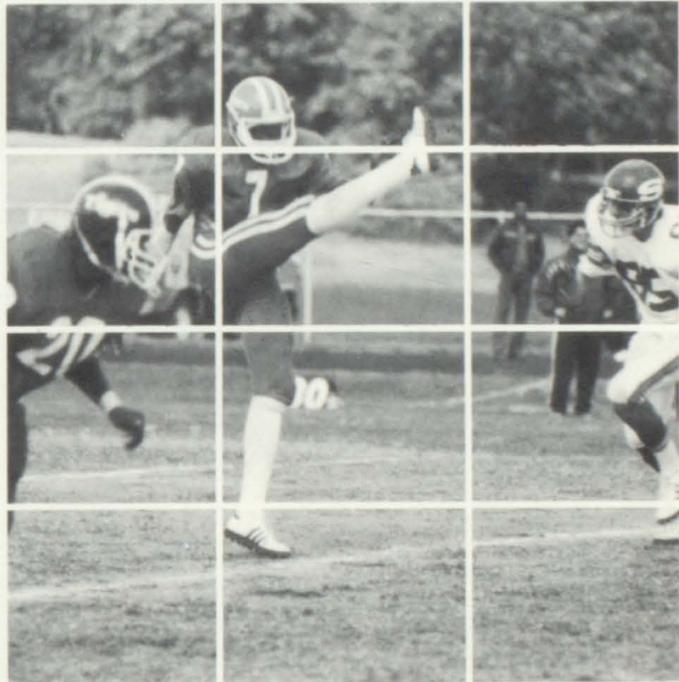

The Tigers went on to stomp the Indians in one of the more exciting games this year. Final score of the game:
Tigers — 35 Indians — 0
So long Sewanhaka, maybe someday, when you're grown!

TIGER MOTIVATION

PIECES OF A DREAM

Once again, another group of seniors shall be leaving the hallowed hallways of the Hempstead High. Like so many others, they will venture out into the world in search of their future. But, unlike so many others, these students have hopes and dreams that outshine all that have gone before them.

Although each prospective graduate may have individual dreams of greatness, it is that self same individuality that makes America great. It has been said that children are the future and the graduates of Hempstead High are no exception. As they step out to pursue their individual goals, they are the pieces of a dream of the great world.

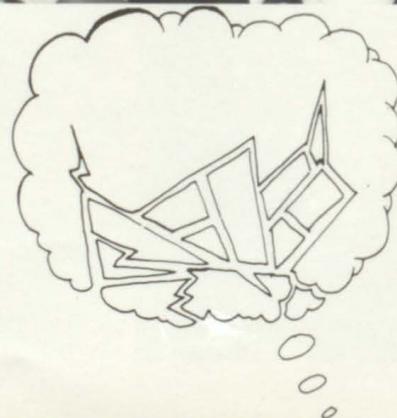

The Colonial staff of 1984 is proud to salute the newest pieces added to the dream of a great future.

Why Do We Study?

Well,

The More You Study,
The More You Know.
The More You Know,
The More You Forget.
The More You Forget,
The Less You Know.
The Less You Know,
The More You Need To Know.

That, Is Why We Study!

GRADUATION

If you're Graduating and you know that you have passed
If you know where you are heading and how long it's going to last
If you are going somewhere and you know what is going down
You'll get what is coming and you will get what is going around
If you know about yourself and the places you want to see
If you know about your life and what kind of person you're going to be
If you're moving up and you're walking on by
If you know you're graduating cry tears, joy tears, cry.
Graduation is a special word
please don't think it absurd
Because soon you will be saying
I've graduated, haven't you heard?
Graduation is a tense feeling
A nervous one at that still you say, am I graduating
Am I moving on the right track
What a question to ask you could always get turned down
What an empty, but hollow feeling your face expresses a frown
Graduation is a beautiful feeling only for the right people
Just like marriage is a special ceremony
under the right steeple

Yearbook Message — 1984

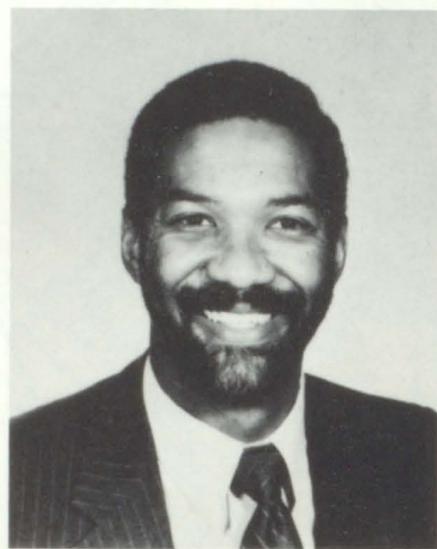

Charles Mills, principal

Each year, we bid goodbye to a new class of graduating seniors with mixed pride and regret. This year's class take their leave just in time to challenge the infamous year of George Orwell — 1984.

Orwell foresaw a grave situation in which human freedom and dignity were in jeopardy. Though the dire predictions of George Orwell have not come to be, still it will fall to today's generation to insure that freedom and human dignity are cherished and defended. It is on the preservation of these values that their education has been focused. It is through education that they will succeed.

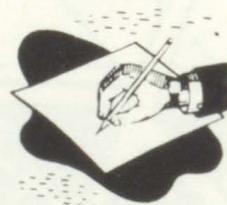

We know they will meet the challenge.

... Under the sponsorship of the High School P.T.A., a dinner was held on November 5th, the proceeds of which were for the Hempstead Scholarship Fund. The event also served as a testimonial to honor Mr. Charles Mills in recognition of his 21 years of service to the district, the past ten of which have been as Principal of the Hempstead High School. Among the guests were many prominent citizens from the community, and Dr. Sterling S. Keyes, New York State Coordinator of Elementary, Secondary and Continuing Education, acted as master of ceremonies for the occasion.

Hempstead Supervisor Tom Gullotta, Assemblywoman Barbara Patton, Mayor George Milhim and the High School Student Council and National Honor Society were among those presenting Mr. Mills with plaques and citations. A congratulatory letter was received from New York State Governor Mario Cuomo. It was a very warm tribute to Mr. Mills. Congratulations and best wishes for continued success.

A MESSAGE TO HEMPSTEAD STUDENTS DETERMINE YOUR OWN DESTINY

If education serves no other purpose, it should provide the individual — you the student — with skills and motivation to make your own decisions and choose constructive paths of making a living and living your life.

This process does not begin nor end at the high school. Teachers play a major role in your choices, but the role of the parent is crucial to the kind of person you'll become and the career choices you will make.

Others also will have input — your friends, relatives, employers, the media and various influences.

Listen to your parents, talk with them, discuss your ideas and plans.

Listen to your teachers and school leaders, plan together for your schooling — appropriate course selections, high school program, and career planning.

Take into account the many other constructive influences in your order of things.

Consider all of this and then make your own decision as to:

Your Career Goal — What Do You Really Want To Be.

Your School Program — Plan your course selection and high school program toward preparing to achieve your career goal.

Your Diploma — Make sure you graduate from high school with the Best Possible Grades in All Your Courses.

Your Career — Pursue your career plans beyond high school with employment vocational-technical training, college or other preparatory programs.

Your Life — Make the kinds of adjustments and refine your skills and experiences so that your final career choice and your social endeavors result in positive, constructive and self-rewarding contributions to your family, your life career, your community and yourself.

It will not be easy. Getting top grades in school is hard work. And to succeed in achieving college, technical school, and job goals will take more hard work.

But if you set high expectations for yourself, and we join in helping you to realize these expectations, success and self-satisfaction in doing your best will be your reward.

Always be yourself. Don't ever forget your family . . . and try to always help others.

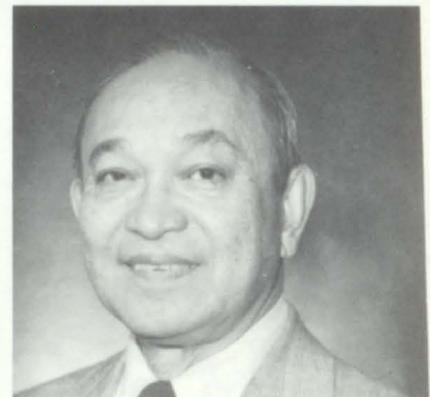

The best of life to each of you in all of your endeavors.

Sincerely,
Dr. John W. Dobbs

The Mock Trial Team engages in a competition that is sponsored by the Nassau County Bar Association. The competition has been in existence for nine years. However, this is the second year that Hempstead has fielded a team. The team consists of eight active members, one bailiff and an alternate.

The case this year involved a woman who was injured in a car accident. She is attempting to collect $200,000 for pain and suffering from the owner of a social club who served the driver alcoholic beverages at a party preceding the accident. The team must present both the plaintiff's and the defendant's case in two separate trials. After a series of eliminations, a state champion is chosen in May in Albany.

This year's team included six students from last year plus four new participants. The active team at each trial consists of three lawyers and three witnesses.

CADETTES AND RIFLE CLUB

Under the direction of Mr. Ronald Ransom, members of the club receive rifle instruction at Kennedy Park Rifle Range. Working in conjunction with marine corps cadet program, the rifle instruction program allows students to study military marksmanship procedures and activities before they may decide to enlist in the armed services.

In addition, the program enables students to learn the fundamentals of good marksmanship, in addition to home firearms safety training. The rifle instruction program is fully accredited by the National Rifle Association of America and its members participate in the NRA's local junior olympic shooting program for 1984.

Both groups consist of young men and young women from grades 9-12. Most students we programmed for choir through the guidance department. But quite a few students join up just because they have an interest in singing.

The Choir is trained to sing all types of music from classical to pop. The gospel group performs only gospel music.

The year's work involves training the students in their voice classifications, using all types of vocal techniques, to sing with understanding; to interpret the composers' music as should be; to learn to sing by sight for better understanding; and to memorize parts as they apply to the music.

Invitations to perform for the school, community, churches and other organizations keeps both groups rehearsing and preparing for concerts throughout the year.

Affirmative Action

by Scott Paulson

Black Nationalism

by Thomasina Ricks

Affirmative Action, as defined by Encyclopedia Americana, is "a series of steps, projects, or programs designed to correct the present effects of past discrimination against minority groups."

As seen in the case of affirmative action, it is required by law to ensure that applicants are judged on the basis of merit without regard to race, color, or national origin. This was first established in 1965. But it is also utilized by those in minority groups (particularly in the area of affirmative action) to understand. But will it be a quota system? I do not know. Many businesses, government agencies, and organizations intend to utilize affirmative action to hire minorities. Employment discrimination is a problem when hiring minorities. This utilization of affirmative action affects the process of hiring and themselves reject affirmative action to accommodate affirmative action. When considering affirmative action, one must weigh the advantages. Racial discrimination is a disadvantage. In higher education, affirmative action diversifies student bodies. In professional fields, affirmative action is a drawback. However, affirmative action is a form of discrimination based on a court-appealed policy labeled affirmative action? It is an issue to be resolved. Affirmative action is from an obligation, wherein you are required to hire a person who cannot get a job use an employer is hiring minorities only? In either position, affirmative action is understandable to expect help because of being a minority, but affirmative action and tokenism come into place, that understanding should be evaluated.

Blacks revolutionized their opinion. It was also a symbol for whites to understand that Blacks had the abilities to permeate white society, completing the missing link to the chain. In a recent poll of teenaged Blacks, it was asked "How do you feel about being Black"? The answers varied from "I can't help it, I was born Black" to "I feel proud" and "It's nice being Black". As one can notice, most of these answers are not in depth or specified, proving that many Black people cannot explain or express the true meaning of being Black. Black pride reached its Zenith in the 1960's. Many Black adults who were growing up during the 1960's have a greater understanding of the meaning of being Black. Many of today's young Black people are confused and have a misconception of the true meaning of being Black. Black pride among Blacks of today is almost diminished. Many young Blacks do not understand that being Black is a state of existence and not a color, shape, or form. The Black pride of the 1960's produced many changes for the Black man such as integration and voting. Blacks growing up today seem to feel that Black pride is all in the past, whereas Blacks of yesterday feel it was an important milestone of the Black race. Being Black is definitely a privilege because of the White History is an institutionalized compilation of facts that is the most prestigious of all American history. It is taught in all public schools and universities in the United States. Summarily stated, white history epitomizes America as beginning great and ever increasing in greatness. White history exemplifies how American democracy is and makes its leaders feel that they have a special mission in the world. After all, with a vast and virgin country that was supposedly so sparsely populated by Indians who could so easily be killed or pushed aside, what was to stop this great experiment?

Negro History comprises old acceptable norms of Black history depicting yesterdays' passive thinking. It is the history most heard of in Black communities. Negro history quietly conveys most of what white history states and portrays similar pictures of a great nation. The plight from indignation to dignity illustrates some flaws and pains but never characterizes the Black as "somebody." Negro history tries to show her worthiness of a place in America and that Black people can be included in the great American society without diminishing the picture any.

Black History, on the other hand, tries to shatter white ideals and create an equal position. It judges America by the way Indians and blacks have been treated and states that there is no American history because white people have written without dealing with the Red and Black experiences. Black history says that no society can get rid of an original people and bring over another group of people as slaves, and call itself a democracy. Black history speaks out against passivity and portrays an established realm of existence.

When presented with this information, a decision must be formulated as to which history shows the greatest relevancy. White history can be likened to a bone marrow disease, a strain that eats the structure of true knowledge and leaves nothing but lies and misinformation. Negro history, while appropriate in some instances, is basically too condescending. Inherent paradoxes are brought up when this line of thought is examined critically. Black history calls for a new definition of what

EDITORS AND ADVISOR NOTES

Michelle G. Isaacs

To my fellow graduates:

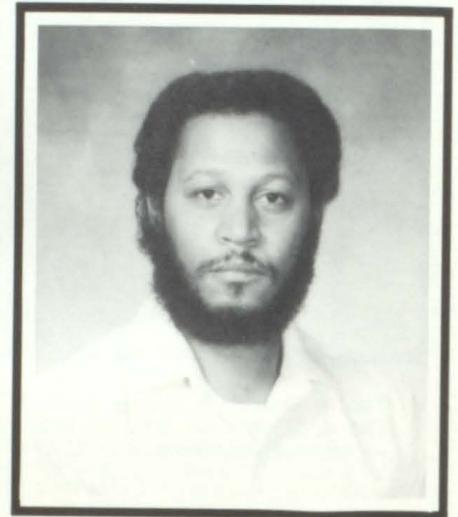

Being a member of the Class of '84 at Hempstead High School has been an interesting experience, to say the least. I have encountered a great number of people whom I am sure I will never forget. However, no member of the graduating class should either be forgotten or taken for granted. Even for the most gifted, the past 4 years have been a struggle for excellence.

Hempstead High School is merely the first stop along the long road which we have yet to travel. Although we, the Class of '84, are a diverse group, with aspirations as individual as we are, I believe we have one thing in common. Inherent in all of us is the will to succeed and the determination to overcome all obstacles. It is with pride that I congratulate those of you who shall walk beside me on graduation night. Already we have overcome one of the greatest obstacles we shall encounter.

M. Isaacs
Editor-in-chief

As those of us who are seniors approach the end of our last year here at H.H.S., we begin to look back at the times that have passed. Suddenly the memories engulf us . . . the memories of all that Hempstead High has meant to us, both good and bad: the friends and the enemies, the victories and the losses, the achievements and the failures. We remember the friends that have left us in years passed, and we think forward to those that we will leave behind. We know the pain that we will feel when we must leave, but it is because we are able to feel this pain that we know that all that has happened to us together is so important to us all. When all of the tears have dried and all of the initial shock is gone we will look back once more and smile faintly. It's been fun, and I wish you all the love and success that is rightfully yours.

It has been an eventful, significant, and satisfying year. In our attempt to capture some of the events, it is difficult not to note the dedication and talents of our staff and students. The most outstanding quality of H.H.S. is our cohesiveness, evident everywhere. I am extremely grateful to have had a staff which worked diligently and enthusiastically. I hope our labor of love, the Colonial 84, will offer to all an indelible recollection of happy days spent at H.H.S.

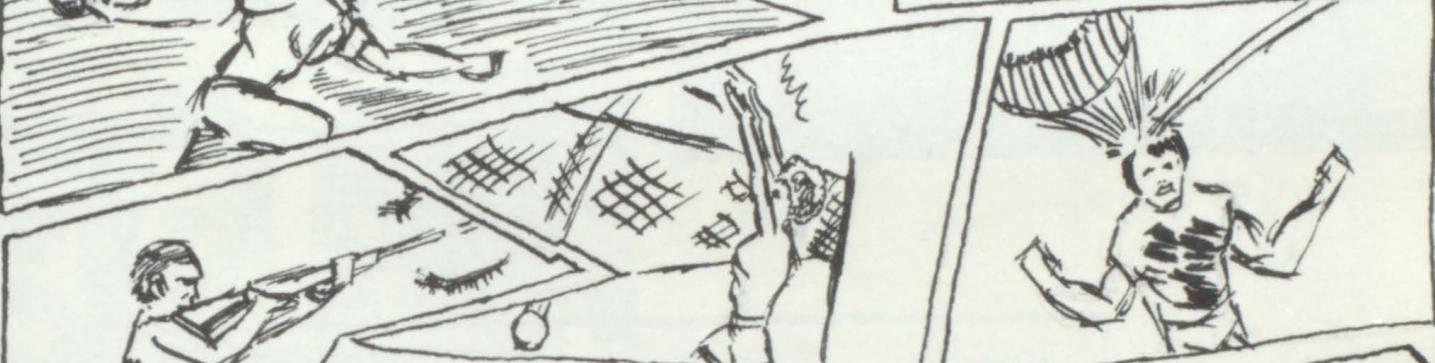

These "pieces of your dreams" at H.H.S., are yours forever.

Varsity football completed another successful season with a record of 5 wins, 1 loss and 2 ties. The Tigers set a school record for points allowed in one season giving up a stingy 27 points in their 8 games.

The defense was led by two outstanding linebackers, Albert Walker and James Butler. Both were all county selections and Butler attained all state honors. Butler will attend Iowa State next fall on a full athletic scholarship. Walker, according to coach Krumanacker, "is the best middle linebacker we have had here." The defensive line was anchored by seniors Marshall McCallum and Stanley Greer. Defensive secondary leadership was manned by Darrell Jones and Eugene Grant.

The Tiger offense often struck quickly with the pin point of Keith Harris and the exciting catches of end Arthur Barrett. Hempstead's wishbone offense was led up front by 3 year letterman Arrion Cross and Norman Deena who were all League linemen.

Congratulations to coaches Krumenacker, Voight, Stock, and all the Tigers on another outstanding season!

Wrestling

Even though the Hempstead Varsity Wrestling team did not enjoy a lot of team wins there was a lot of individual success and honors. The lack of success in dual meets was countered by outdistancing 11 other teams and winning the Hempstead Invitational Tournament. Hempstead crowned 4 individual champions, James Howard 105 lbs., Javont Boose 132 lbs., Tom Daniels 215 lbs., and Byron Taylor 250 lbs.

Individual honors for the season read as such, James Howard Hempstead Tournament champion, 3rd at Syosset, 3rd in divisional tournament.

Tyrone Payne 3rd in Hempstead Tournament, 3rd at East Meadow, Syosset champion, 4th in divisional tournament.

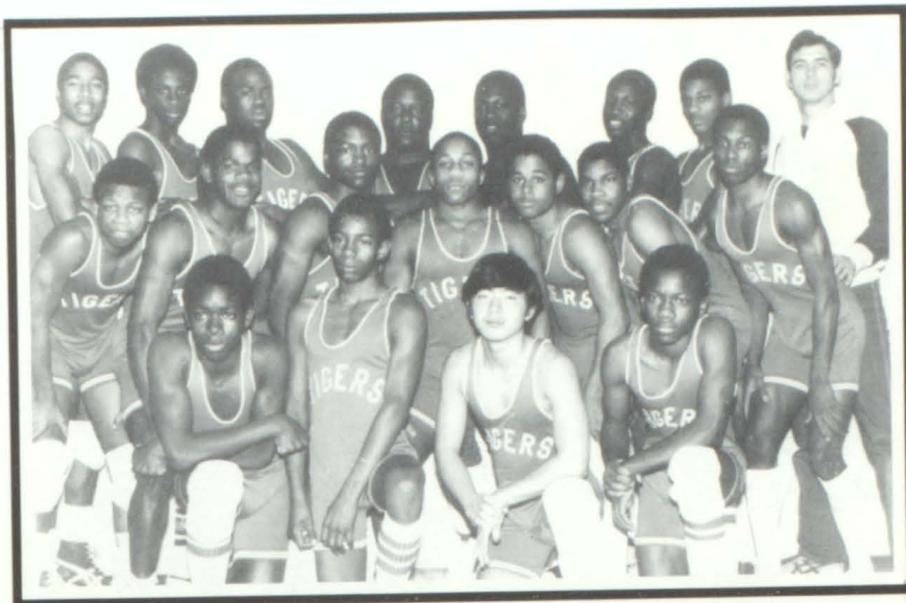

Javont Boose Hempstead Tournament champion 2nd at Syosset, 2nd at East Meadow, divisional champion, and 4th in Nassau county championships.

Tom Daniels Hempstead Tournament champion, Syosset champion 2nd at East Meadow, 2nd in divisional tournament, 2nd in Nassau county championships.

Tony Dozier 2nd at Hempstead Tournament, 2nd at East Meadow, 2nd at Syosset, and 4th in divisional tournament.

Byron Taylor Hempstead Tournament champion, Syosset champion, 3rd at East Meadow, divisional tournament champion, 5th in Nassau county championships.

"STEP INTO MY WORLD"

An original musical revue written by the famous Broadway composer, Micki Grant and Ronald G. Russo was produced for the first time in the Hempstead High School's Fourth Wall history. A new precedent was established with Broadway writers which are now offering us their new works for production.

In the future Mr. Russo's original conception of a new musical based on the U.S.O. written by the famous screen and stage writer, Leslie Lee, will be presented. We are hopeful that U.S.O. will match the success of Mike Grants' "Step Into My World."

ALUMNI DAY

Hempstead High School had its first annual Alumni Day festivities on Tuesday, December 20, 1983. This day was set aside to welcome former students back and have them share with us some of their experiences that they've encountered since graduation. The idea of having this activity was initiated by one of our 1982 graduates, Ms. Karen Jackson.

After having spent one year at Grambling State University, she recognized the need for high school students and especially seniors to be made aware of some of the difficulties that arise after graduation. She felt the need to inform students of some of the pitfalls that they can expect to encounter during their adult life.

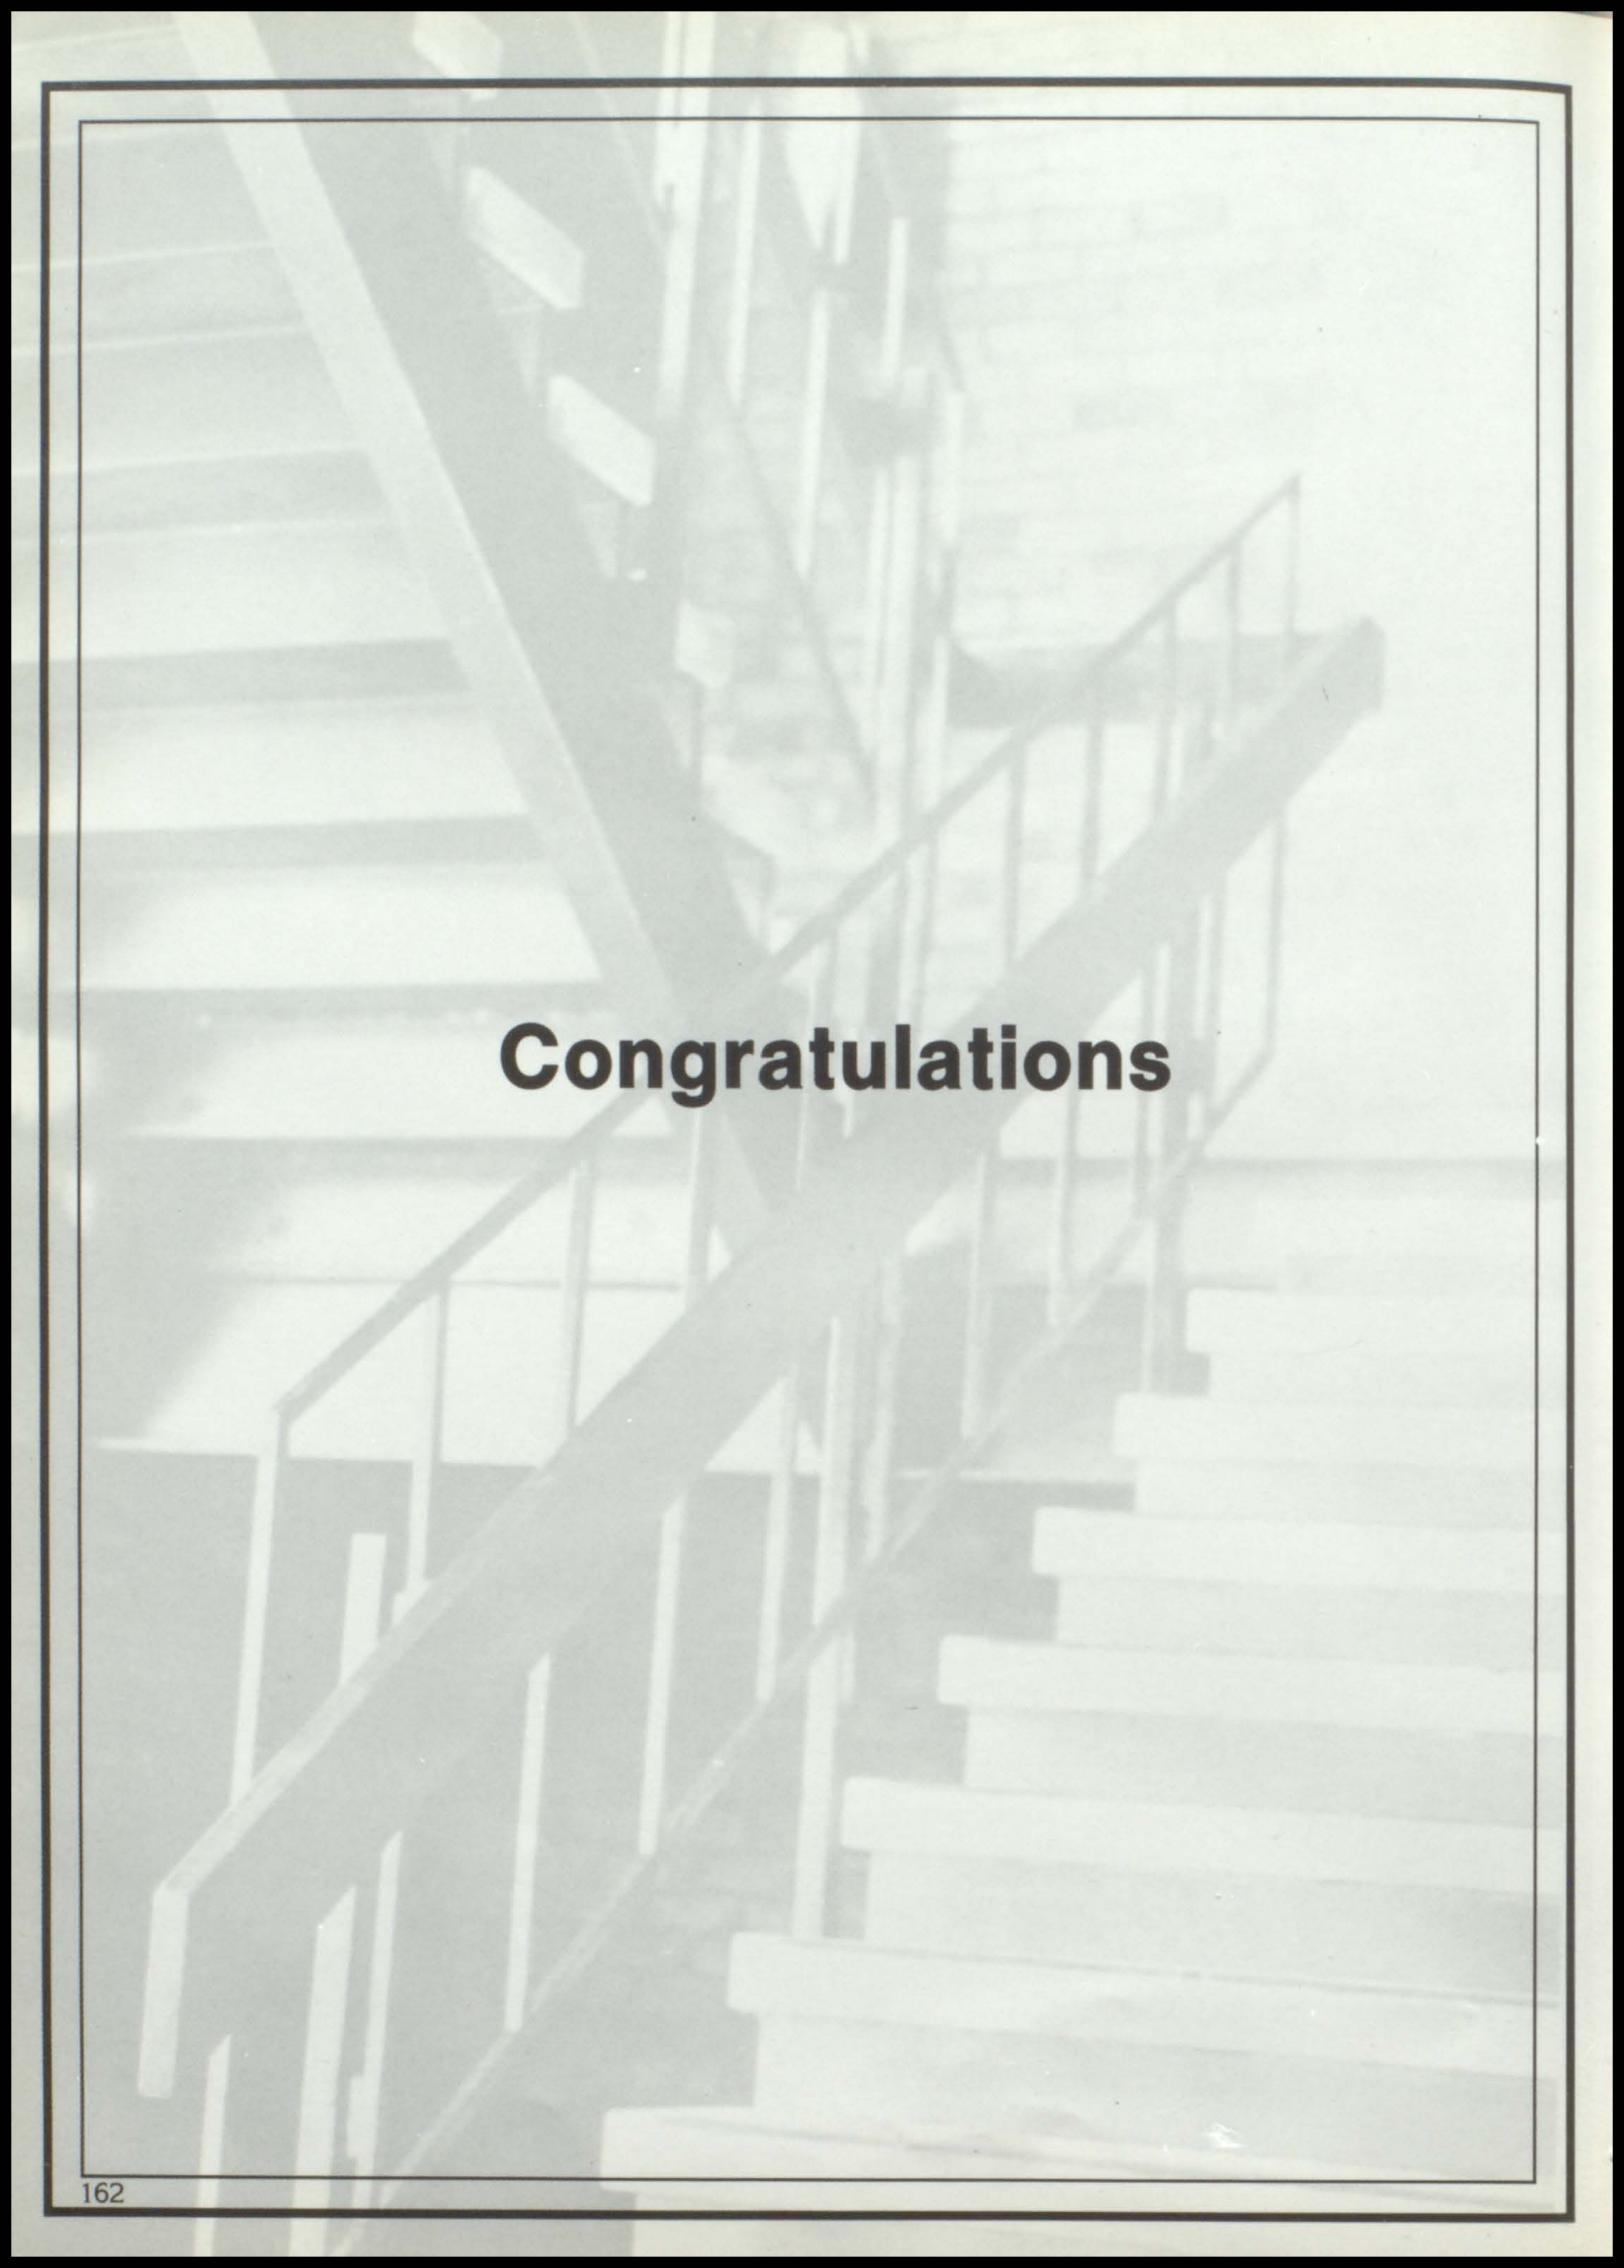

Hopefully this will be helpful in alleviating some of their future fears, anxieties and traumas. This, in turn, will give seniors a chance to learn about college life and the things to come. Many seniors think that college is all fun and games but in reality, it can be difficult and strenuous experience.

We are hopeful that this will only be the beginning of an annual activity for our alumni, and that next year, Alumni Day will be even more successful than our first.

An immigrant father gave this advice to his son as the youth was boarding a ship to sail forth in the world to seek his fortune.

“Michael, my boy, remember the three bones and you’ll get ahead all right in this world.”

As the young man departed, a stranger standing at the side of the father turned to him and inquired, “I overheard your remark and can’t help wondering what you meant by the three bones.”

The father replied: “What I was referring to was the wishbone, the jawbone and the backbone. It’s the wishbone that keeps you wanting the good things of life. It’s the jawbone that helps you find out how to get them, if you’re not too proud to ask questions; and it’s the backbone that keeps you going after them, in spite of any discouragements, until you get them.”

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Once again, the academic year has come to a close. As always, the school year has been in no way uneventful. H.H.S. has had its share of ups and downs. However, in true form, The Tigers (All) of them have come through unscathed.

The graduating class of 1984 are a very special group of people. It is they who are destined to control the future. Leaving Hempstead High School is merely the first step to fulfilling their dreams. Each of these dreams, when fulfilled, will be the pieces of a greater society and a better world.

As we know the high school was evaluated by the Middle States Committee. It was their job to pick and pry and try to determine whether or not Hempstead High School was worth its accreditation. However, the value of a school's worth is measured in its students. The students of H.H.S. are a fine group and they show what this school is worth.

Once again, the 1984 Colonial Yearbook Staff would like to congratulate the Class of 1984 on a job well done.

In addition, we would like to thank all staff members who assisted in the production of Colonial 84. Special Thanks to:

Mrs. Phyllis Wolf — English Department, for proofreading our material.

Mrs. Ruby Watkins — Business Department, for offering her typing assistance.

Mr. Julius Brown — Math Department, for helping us with the homecoming photography.

Ms. Linda Scher — Art Department, for helping us with our art designs.

Special Thanks also are extended to:

The Colonial yearbook would like to conclude by expressing a sincere heartfelt thank you to our advisor, Ms. Judith Johnson, for her outstanding performance in organizing and overseeing, the tremendous task of producing our yearbook.

Ms. J., the enumerable hours you spent with us are appreciated by all of us.
